Boat Sinks

Boom Man Hunted

A sinking boat spotted Thursday off Hernanda Island, near Powell River, touched off an air, land and sea search for a missing boom worker.

Albion Backman, 45, of Lund, B.C., left Lund early Thursday for Twin Islands in his 28-foot boom boat Night Breeze. He was taking fuel to the B & T Logging camp on Twin Islands. He works for the company as a boom man.

The tug Island Commander spotted his boat drifting and sinking off Hernanda Island. Seven tug boats, one police motor launch from Powell River, an RCAF boat, three fish boats and two RCAF aircraft searched for the missing man.

At night the RCMP boat from Powell River towed the Night Breeze back to Lund. The search continues today.

Diefenbaker Wins Standing Ovation

'Canada-First' Resources Pledged by Tory Leader

Commonwealth Ties Stressed

John Diefenbaker pledged the Progressive Conservative party last night to a "Canada first" policy of resource development and a strengthening of Commonwealth ties "for selfish reasons."

The eloquent leader of the opposition in Parliament spoke at Central Junior High School auditorium. He received a standing ovation when he finished from some 1,500 persons crowding it.

Key of the party's platform for the coming federal election—"the skeleton, the chart"—is a great national development policy that would utilize the nation's resources "in Canada, in the main," he said.

Other points were:

Maintaining and strengthening the Commonwealth to regain lost markets;

Making Parliament, now "reduced to an echo" by "arrogant" Liberals, strong and effective again;

Reform the Senate;

Reduce taxes and seek to change the unfavorable balance of trade with other countries.

A Conservative government would immediately seek a British Commonwealth trade conference in an attempt to regain lost markets—such as dwindling B.C. lumber markets, he said.

It would also launch a policy of federal-provincial co-operation on a "Roads to Resources" program.

POSTMASTER-GENERAL LAPOINTE

HAROLD WINCH

Undependable U.S.

Mr. Diefenbaker reaped prolonged applause when he said that, "while Canada is first, her major position must be one within a Commonwealth."

This was "not from a point of view of sentimental connections . . . but of selfish self-interest" as the British market had been lost in many ways to the "comfortably adjacent" but often undependable U.S. market.

Conservatives welcome foreign investment in Canada but Canadian representatives must be on boards of directors and Canadians must have the opportunity to invest their money in the projects.

"We don't want to be treated as another state," he said.

Mr. Diefenbaker charged inflation was rampant and unemployment mounting because the government was "pushing Canada down hill" with its "tight money" policy and taxing high enough to provide budgetary surpluses.

But he could see things ease with pensions rising, taxes cut, projects launched "because this is an election year."

"I love Parliament," said the distinguished appearing man. "To me Parliament represents the custodian of your freedom and mine.

"I cannot recognize the Parliament I once knew."

This was because an "arrogant Liberal regime" had been too long in power, spawning "ministers who become masters rather than servants." Of Trade and Commerce Minister C. D. Howe, Mr. Diefenbaker said "he controls 25 per cent of Canada."

"When Mr. Howe speaks, 170 Liberal members immediately put their own abilities in pawn."

Avoid Third Party

Mr. Diefenbaker called on voters not to cast their ballots for candidates of a third party, as that would "simply be assuring the Liberal regime."

He would introduce the establishment of the Dominion-Provincial Committee on reform of the Senate, to make it an effective second chamber of government with worthwhile duties.

Taxes must be reduced, Mr. Diefenbaker said.

The government has been "picking pockets" of Canadians, taking $28 to $38 per person more than it needs just to pile up a surplus, he said. It wastes extravagantly where it should save, in a "spendthrift mentality," gained during the war years and continued.

Unfavorable trade balances hit their peak in 1956, he said, with an adverse balance of $848,000,000. This was "more than double the 1955 balance." Better Commonwealth trade relations could make up much of this.

The Christian Hanna case, now in the courts, and the case of the Hobbema Indians in Alberta, nearly ousted from their reserve, are "examples of arrogance, of overwhelming power and the effect it has on men and women," Mr. Diefenbaker said.

The vote of every Canadian in the June election will determine "whether or not a Parliament that has been flouted and flaunted will be supplanted by a Parliament that represents the people of Canada — all the people of Canada," he concluded.

Winch Says:

Mail Boss Gyps Help

OTTAWA (CP)—CCF Commons member Harold Winch Thursday charged Postmaster-General Lapointe with being "probably the greatest exploiter of labor" in the federal government.

Mr. Lapointe promptly denied the charge in the Commons. He said the large number of job requests he receives indicates that labor does not feel it is exploited by the post office department.

Mr. Winch, member for Vancouver East, referred specifically to the department's practice of hiring "temporary help" to sort mail at certain peak periods of the day, usually in the evening.

He said many persons work for years as temporary help at less pay than regular postal employees receive.

The government, he said, exploits and "gyps" labor by employing such temporary help, instead of hiring additional permanent staff at full pay.

Mr. Lapointe said the practice of hiring temporary help has been used for years. There was no question of cheating or exploiting employees hired to work a certain number of hours a day during peak periods.

He also said, in reply to a complaint by Mr. Winch, that cheques for overtime Christmas work were mailed earlier this week and must be in the hands of Vancouver postal workers now.

Bennett 'Sure' They Won't

Ottawa Threatens To Tax $28 Rebate

McCann Statement Starts Local Storm

Opposition swelled quickly here yesterday to suggestions in Ottawa that B.C.'s $28 tax rebate to home owners would be subject to federal taxation.

Premier Bennett said he is "sure" that Ottawa will not charge income tax on the rebate promised in the provincial budget.

"I'm sure that no federal government would want to stop a provincial government trying to reduce taxes," he said, "but if they do that it would be one good reason why they should be thrown out of office."

Meanwhile Progressive Conservative leader John Diefenbaker showed no surprise when asked for comment.

"He (Dr. McCann) should know because they have exhausted every means known to man to exploit taxation," he said.

Revenue Minister McCann said in the House of Commons the special payments to certain residents of B.C. and Alberta by their Social Credit governments will be taxable.

Oak Bay Reeve Fred Norris said he could not see how the rebate could be taxable.

"It's just a straight reduction in taxes," he said.

Mayor Percy Scurrah said he did not want to comment on the issue.

Rebate Inviolate

Saanich Reeve Arthur Ash said the taxpayers have to pay enough to the municipality without the federal government trying to get more.

"Surely if the taxpayers are given a rebate on taxes they are entitled to that rebate without the federal government trying to cut in on it," Reeve Ash said.

In replying to opposition questions in the Commons, Dr. McCann said he does not think present tax laws cover such payments as these. But if they were ruled income they would be subject to income tax or if they were considered a gift they would come under gift tax.

George Hahn (SC, New Westminster) asked whether $28 contributions toward the home-owner's municipal taxes, planned by the B.C. government, would be taxable.

Dr. McCann said it is hard to determine where "gifts like that lie." But they were either income or a gift and either way would be taxable.

Harold Winch (CCF, Vancouver East) asked the minister what "legal right" he has to say that the payments are income or a gift. He suggested that the payments are a rebate on taxes.

Speaker Rene Beaudoin ruled the question out of order because it asked for a legal opinion.

Legislation is now before the Alberta legislature to use one-third of the province's petroleum royalties to pay dividends to all Canadians over 21 who have lived in the province for five consecutive years. It is estimated that individual payments will amount to $22.

Dr. McCann said it would be taxable as "it constitutes revenue in the taxpayers' hands."

Flies Too Low

Heavy foot on the accelerator resulted in a speeding charge yesterday for Highways Minister P. A. Gaglardi while driving to Vancouver's airport. He agreed to pay $25 fine by cheque and must mail his driver's licence for endorsement of charge.

First Chinese-Canadian to enter a federal campaign is Douglas Jung, a Victoria-born lawyer who will represent the Progressive-Conservatives in the battle for the Vancouver-Centre seat now held by Defence Minister Ralph Campney.

Fire Kills Children

DINSMORE, Sask. (CP)—Three children died and a fourth was injured in a blaze that broke out Thursday while their mother attended a school education week program.

Dead are Tommy, 5, Brian, 3, and Terry McLean, 1.

Voters Shake Tories

LONDON (Reuters)—Voters returned Conservatives in two by-elections Thursday but dealt fresh blows to the government's prestige by sharply cutting the victory margins.

In Sir Anthony Eden's former constituency of Warwick and Leamington the Conservative majority was slashed by five-sixths and in Bristol West the majority was down one-third.

RAF to Have Fastest Plane

LONDON (AP)—Parliament was told Thursday that 1,000-mile-an-hour fighter plane, which ultimately may travel at twice the speed of sound, soon will be in the service of the RAF. It is the English Electric P-1, one of the heaviest fighters ever built.

'They're Overdoing It'

Students' 'Car-Jobs' Lashed

NANAIMO—Senior high school principal J. B. Litch hit out at students who were engaged in part-time work.

Many of them were "overdoing it" and putting in as many as 36 hours a week, he told a PTA conference Wednesday.

Of the 650 students at his school, 385 have jobs. Twenty-five work a 30-hour week, others up to 36 hours.

"Their studies are being affected," said the principal. He thought that the students' aim in working after school hours was to be able to buy and afford to operate cars.

"Whether this is a good thing or not can be judged from a remark made by a Vancouver justice, who commented that a good percentage of juvenile delinquency was traceable to this cause," said Mr. Litch.

'If There Is Any'

Canada Claims Land 'Up to Pole'

OTTAWA (BUP)—Canada claims all the land—if there is any—between Ellesmere Island and the North Pole, Resources Minister Jean Lesage told the commons last night.

He was chided during consideration of his department's $46,000,000 spending program by D. S. Harkness (PC-Calgary North) for disavowing the "sector theory" of Arctic sovereignty. Under the theory, the countries bordering the Arctic wastes claim "a piece of the Arctic pie" stretching from their northern limits to the pole.

Harkness said Lesage had disavowed this theory last year in parliament, but Lesage rose heatedly to state the government's position.

It is that Canada doesn't claim any of the Arctic seas, whether open or frozen, but that Canada does claim "all the land in that sector, right up to the pole."

No scientific survey has ever been made of the polar cap to determine whether it is land covered with ice and snow, or frozen sea.

Takes Blame

Arthur Turner, Vancouver CCFer who recently suggested compulsory voting, revised his proposal yesterday to read compulsory registration of voters. He said it was a pity the CCF had been condemned for a suggestion which was his own, not the party's.

ALL ABOARD

With G. E. Mortimore

SOME people think witchcraft is out of style, but they are wrong.

It is true that we see comparatively few aged crones dancing around cauldrons and mixing goulash from such insanitary materials as "eye of newt and [illegible]." The health authorities wouldn't allow it.

To my knowledge it has been quite a while since any Canadian sprouted wings at midnight and flapped off to collect blood. We leave that to the Red Cross.

Being a vampire is too melodramatic and European. What percentage is there in it, anyway? Dull work, and no night bonus.

Just because the practise of sticking pins in rag dolls has lost its appeal, however, there is no reason to suppose that black magic is on the wane.

* * *

Magic has moved with the times, that's all. Nowadays it is done by words. Canada swarms with witches and warlocks who know how to paralyse the brain with a name, a phrase or a slogan.

Anyone can do it, in fact. With no training at all, a beginner is able to send a subject into a trance-like state merely by intoning the words "Marilyn Monroe," "Elvis Presley" or "Free Enterprise."

This last one is the most powerful voodoo of them all, although in my case Marilyn Monroe has it beaten by a slight edge.

* * *

I assume that "Free Enterprise" is a black-magic phrase, because that is the only way I can explain the strange power it has to freeze thought in otherwise rational persons, and bring a glassy look to the eye.

By making a few mystical passes over the nation, and grunting "Free Enterprise," Rt. Hon. C. D. Howe has apparently been able to persuade millions of people that it was healthy and normal to hand a group of financiers $80,000,000 of our income tax money to build a pipeline and enrich themselves.

If the pipeline is the profitable thing it seems to be, why shouldn't the people of Canada own it? Because that would be dirty Socialism, says a voice from the back of the hall. It is the voice of someone who has been bewitched by a slogan.

* * *

Does anyone call Hon. P. A. Gaglardi a Socialist because he is in favor of publicly-owned roads? Should we throw the post office open to free enterprise? "Deal with Squander Brothers City Hall Company for the lowest taxes in town." Is that what we want?

Some things are natural monopolies, and the public treasury should draw the profit from them. Abracadoodle! When you awake, you will remember nothing of this conversation.

Tapir Follows Banana Bait

A 350-pound tapir is hardly a household pet, but when you're the son of a zoo curator you have certain advantages. Four-year-old Gary Wells, son of Rochester zoo curator Earl Wells, rides Henrietta, a zoo tapir, and gets it to walk around by dangling bananas on a pole in front of her.—(CPC)

'Can't Order UNEF Out'

Egypt Stand Disputed

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian government disagrees with Egypt's stand that it can order out the United Nations Emergency Force whenever it wishes, Prime Minister St. Laurent said Thursday.

He spoke Thursday after Stanley Knowles (CCF, Winnipeg North Centre) asked what the prime minister meant when he said, in reference to clearance of the Suez Canal, that:

"It is quite true that unless there is acquiescence—and there should be acquiescence in the attitudes adopted by the majority of members of the United Nations, the only alternative would be the use of force to overcome resistance, and I hope that that will not become necessary."

Was he referring to collective action by the UN or to action by individual nations on their own? asked Mr. Knowles.

The prime minister replied:

"No, I was not referring to collective action by the United Nations . . . what I was pointing out . . . was that the only alternative to obtaining acquiescence of the government of the land where the United Nations Emergency Force was to be placed would be a resumption of the use of force."

Mr. St. Laurent said Thursday he had meant to point out that force "was an alternative that could not be considered and therefore when the words 'is the whole thing subject to the whim of Mr. Nasser' are used, there is no other way of obtaining acquiescence of the governments concerned that can be resorted to unless [illegible] against in that region."

Mr. Knowles asked Mr. St. Laurent whether he thinks the Suez situation has reached a point where even such a possibility as a resort to force "should be suggested by one such as the prime minister."

"I am not suggesting anything," snapped Mr. St. Laurent.

Thursday's Suez exchange started when Howard Green (PC, Vancouver - Quadra), asked whether the Canadian government agrees with an Egyptian assertion Wednesday that Egypt can order out the UNEF whenever it wishes.

"The Canadian government does not agree with that stand taken by the Egyptian government," Mr. St. Laurent replied.

Drivers Caught With Old Plates

First drivers charged in connection with 1957 licence plates appeared in Saanich police court yesterday afternoon.

Accused of failing to display the proper licence plates on their cars were Ralph Barnes, 4130 Glanford; Robert Norman Elliott, 3231 Rutledge, and Nicholas Victor Mason, 551 Sayward. Each pleaded guilty and was fined $25.

* * *

Appearing for sentence following conviction last week of careless driving, Sam Schochenmaier, McTavish Road Sidney, was fined $100 or 21 days, and his licence was suspended.

Magistrate Henry C. Hall told accused that he had considered setting a jail sentence without any option, but in view of dependent's age and responsibilities had decided on the fine.

* * *

James David Morgan, 411 Constance, charged with criminally negligent driving, changed an earlier plea of not guilty through counsel James Proudfoot to one of guilty. He was remanded in custody to March 14.

Police said Morgan had been asked to accompany them in his car from Mount Tolmie to Saanich police station. When the police car turned north at Mayfair and Richmond, accused turned south.

The Saanich police car and an Oak Bay police car following, gave chase, police saying Morgan drove at speeds up to 80 miles an hour south on Richmond, and through the Lansdowne intersection at 75 miles an hour. He was stopped on Haultain.

* * *

Two drivers were found guilty of careless driving in Saanich court trials yesterday.

Harold W. F. Whiting, 1047 Richardson, was involved in an accident Feb. 8 while turning left onto Kelvin from Douglas. The magistrate, deeming him to have been cutting the corner while his vision was obscured, fined him $35.

Rudolph Gutman, 3871 Old East Saanich Road, was fined a like amount following a near-collision Feb. 16 on the Pat Bay Highway. There was no crash, but the other car went into a ditch and overturned.

* * *

Another driver, charged with careless driving, pleaded guilty and was fined $35. He was Victor Favel, 1289 Centre, who missed the stop sign at Cedar Hill Crossroad while driving south on Blenkinsop.

Three persons were fined for driving without current drivers' licences. All pleaded guilty. Violet Ashdown, 5013 Cordova Bay Road, was fined $25, as was Richard Patten, HMCS Naden. Valerie Clarke, 869 Seymour, was fined $30.

* * *

Steve E. Johnson, 3939 Cedar Hill Crossroad, was fined $30 when he admitted driving at 50 miles an hour in a 30-mile zone on Glanford.

Wilfred Eichhorn, 1239 Pandora, was fined $25 for driving without glasses, contrary to a restriction on his licence.

* * *

In Colwood police court Wednesday Douglas Pearsall, 1158 Goldstream, was fined $50 and $5.50 costs when found guilty of failing to make employees' records available for inspection by the Unemployment Insurance Commission.

* * *

In Sidney police court yesterday William James of McTavish Road was given a six-month suspended sentence on a charge of assault. He was assessed costs of $10.50.

On a charge of possessing liquor on an Indian reserve, he was fined $10 and $3 costs.

* * *

John Martin Waddington, Cobble Hill, pleaded guilty to three charges yesterday in city police court: driving without a licence, careless driving, and failing to remain at the scene of an accident.

He was fined $25, $35 and $40 respectively. The offence took place March 6 on Arnold Street.

* * *

Two other drivers faced multiple charges in city court.

Patrick Buttle, 750 Connaught, pleaded guilty to driving without a licence and to careless driving, following an accident Feb. 23 on Craigflower Road. He was fined $35 on the first count, $40 on the second.

Donald V. Erickson, 3016 Rutland, admitted violating a restriction on his driver's licence by driving without glasses, and pleaded guilty to careless driving. He was in a collision Feb. 24 on Douglas.

On the first charge he was fined $25, and on the second $40. He undertook to drive for one month for business reasons only.

* * *

Also in city court Colin J. P. Eddie, 1018 Amphion, pleaded guilty to exceeding the 30-mile speed limit on Government, and was fined $25; Richard A. Burch, 5062 West Saanich Road, admitted driving without a licence and was fined $25.

Cornflower Blue Is Useful, Too

By M. V. CHESNUT, FRHS

Earlier this week we kicked around the subject of starting the seeds of hardy annual flowers in a raised, free-draining, outdoor seed bed. Today I think we might give some consideration to the flowers themselves. Here are a few easy annuals which have done well for me:

CORNFLOWERS

These plants bloom very quickly from seeds sown in the open, and are considerable more frost resistant than most of the annual flowers, so the seeds can go in whenever the soil is in fit shape to work.

One common problem with beds of annual flowers is the tendency of many of them to give one brilliant display of bloom over a period of two or three weeks, then to call it a day and pack up. The cornflower is free from this fault, and maintains a constant succession of bloom from early summer right through until winter.

I make two sowings every year—one in March or early April for summer and fall bloom, and one in September to stand outside through the winter and give me spring flowers.

Incidentally, for the menfolk who like to wear a buttonhole flower, the cornflower is ideal. It is just the right size—neither too small nor to conspicuous—and it will stay fresh and attractive in the buttonhole for as long as 48 hours.

All cornflowers are not blue. The one usually sown is Jubilee Gem, a dwarf plant making lots of semi-double flowers in Cambridge blue, but by shopping around you can buy seeds for white, pink, crimson and maroon cornflowers, as well as mixed packets. All of these are unusually long-lasting as cut flowers.

CALENDULAS

These are sometimes called pot marigolds, not because they can be potted as house plants, but because at one time the petals were used extensively in soups and stews. Its true name, calendula, comes from the Latin word from which we get "calendar," and alludes to the fact that this plant may be had in flower every month of the year. It is extraordinarily hardy, and is therefore a good subject for sowing in the fall for spring blooms.

Once a rather flattish, formal bloom, the calendulas are becoming shaggier and more like chrysanthemums as the plant breeders have taken it in hand, and there are now several fine named varieties to choose from.

The Pacific strain is the one to buy. Most seedsmen have the Pacific in mixed colors, but a few list individual kinds such as Pacific Golden Giant, Apricot Beauty, Cream Beauty, and Lemon Beauty. Still another new one, but somewhat harder to come by, is Orange Quills, with petals which curl downward at the edges to form quills.

Seeds sown this month should be above ground within 10 days and in bloom by May. Another sowing around Dominion Day should keep more blooms coming along, and you'll probably find the odd weather-beaten plant still in bloom when everything else in the garden has packed up for the winter.

I am getting persistent stories from various parts of the world to the effect that dogs detest the characteristic scent of calendula foliage, and will stay away from gardens in which these plants are grown. I can't vouch for this, but it might be worth a try in places where dogs are a problem.

Birth Control China's Goal

MRS. ELLEN FAIRCLOUGH
... cast show-off

HONG KONG — Communist China will legalize abortion and sterilization to keep her population of more than 600,000,000 within bounds, it was announced in Peiping Thursday.

The New China News Agency quoted Health Minister Madame Lee Teh Chuan as making a strong plea for birth control and planned families to improve welfare and health of the people.

Without planned childbirth, China can not free herself from poverty, the agency said. Mme. Lee said China's population is growing by 15,000,000 each year.

Tax Imposed

Sidney Spoils Record

SIDNEY—Proud boast of Sidney that it was the only village in the province imposing no taxes went out the window this week when the commission decided to impose a five-mill tax rate.

The rate will be partially absorbed by the provincial government's tax relief plan, explained Commissioner T. A. Alers, chairman of the finance committee.

The tax increase will be felt by commercial houses, who gain no relief under the government's plan.

The tax will raise $7,874. Proceeds from one mill will go to fire protection.

Trans-Mountain

Pipeline To Split Stock

OTTAWA (CP)—The Commons railway committee Thursday approved a private member's bill which would permit Trans Mountain Oil Pipe Line Company to make a five-for-one split of its 5,000,000 shares of common stock.

Approval was given after the committee defeated by a vote of 14 to 6 an amendment proposed by Tom Goode (L. — Burnaby-Richmond) which would have made the split 10 to one. The clause providing for the split was approved 15 to 6.

The bill, approved earlier by the Senate, goes back to the Commons for final reading. It was opposed during the morning and afternoon committee meeting by CCF and Social Credit members.

Parliamentary approval of the bill would enable the company's capital stock to be increased to 25,000,000 shares. Its stock now sells at $11? on the market.

Trans Mountain operates a 24-inch, 718 - mile oil pipeline west from Edmonton to Burnaby, B.C., near Vancouver, and spur line from Sumas, B.C., to a United States refinery at Ferndale, Wash.

D. M. Morrison, president and general manager, said the company has no thought of making a profit through the split.

Confidential Indicted For Obscenity

CHICAGO (AP) — Confidential magazine and its distributing company Thursday were indicted by a federal grand jury on charges of mailing obscene or crime-inciting matter and giving information on abortion.

The six-count indictment, returned before Judge John P. Barnes, named Confidential Incorporated, of New York, and the Kable Printing Company, of Mount Morris, Ill. No individuals were named.

The article, according to the indictment, dealt with a pill developed originally to treat leukemia, but used on 12 women and was successful in producing abortions in 10.

We Must Have Schools

TOMORROW in all areas comprised in School District 61 (Greater Victoria) property owners, and others with equivalent standing who have a vote on money by-laws, must make up their minds on what is to be done with the reduced and resubmitted school building program. Intensive provincial government and municipal review, months' long debate over the plans and costs, and an explanation by the Greater Victoria School Board of the need and the purpose of the by-law have preceded this second balloting. And when every argument has been weighed, necessity remains and outweighs them all. This community must have schools to accommodate children now going forward in their grades and those who will come after them.

The debate of the last two months has been a good thing. The fundamental issues involved have been better developed and made clear. Greater Victoria could build makeshift schools, but in the end that would cost more. The "shift" system enforced by lack of classrooms is intolerable, a detriment to every child and a nuisance to parents. Meanwhile the costs of new construction—under fire, building and other codes—are rising, imposing new strictures on the selection of whatever extension of school plant can be undertaken. The school board has explained its reaction to these conditions, related to provincially dictated policy.

The money by-law which goes before the taxpayers now in each of the municipalities concerned calls for the outlay of $4,470,000, contrasted with $5,600,000 in the first reference. It has been whittled down in provincial government and school board reviews until what remains is possibly the only practical compromise that could be offered in a difficult situation. The Province will pay one half of the cost of the new construction, and the taxpayers of the school district the other. Had the whole cost to be borne by local taxpayers the outlay would prove truly burdensome; but that is not the case. It is an assisted scheme under provincial direction from the start.

Of all the argument advanced pro and con on the school construction issue, where it stuck to the subject and dealt with the issue, that which has impressed us most has been the physical necessities of the case. A post-war "hump" of population appeared in the schools across Canada; necessitated the new elementary schools of a few years back; is pressing hard now on junior high school accommodation; and has yet to make itself fully felt in the high schools and the colleges. This literally comes down to a count of heads—and only so many students can be put in a classroom or taught there. Most ratepayers of School District 61 do not need to look farther than their own hearthrugs to find the proof of this condition. We must have the classrooms for the children offering.

Profits on Poor Service

POSTMASTER-GENERAL LAPOINTE, reporting to Parliament at this session on the financial position of his department, estimated that revenue for the fiscal year now ending would amount to $169,658,000. Budgeted expenditure for the same period was $139,356,662. From these figures the assumption was made—by members of Parliament as well as the news services—that the department would end the year with a surplus of about $30,000,000. A few days later, however, Mr. Lapointe again rose in the House to say that he had given an erroneous impression and that the surplus would be about $6,000,000.

Since it never was and never should be a function of the post office department to make large profits for the government, the interpretation widely placed on the minister's first report aroused a good deal of unfavorable comment. It may have been this which prompted the PMG to issue the correction. Yet it is hard to see how the amended surplus puts the department in any better light. Presumably expenditures exceeded the appropriation; but if actual revenue amounted to $169,000,000 and estimated expenditure to $139,000,000, the department still was about $30,000,000 out in its figuring—which is a very substantial margin of error indeed.

What chiefly caused public annoyance at the minister's figures was the fact that the department had produced a large profit (and whether it was $30,000,000 or $6,000,000 makes little difference) in a year when service was being condemned across the country as indifferent, to use the most charitable word. Notwithstanding this result, the government apparently does not intend to make any noticeable improvement in the coming year. There is little reason to suppose that revenue will decline; it is much more likely to increase. Yet against income of almost $170,000,000 for 1955-56 the PMG proposes to spend only $150,000,000 in the ensuing 12 months.

In other words the government must be expecting another large profit from the postal services. In the case of an operation such as the post office, this kind of budgeting is wrong. The department should either cut the price to its customers or improve the service. The margin of profit in sight might not yet make feasible a return to four-cent postage, but properly applied it could go a long way towards speeding delivery.

The Brier for Victoria

AS this is written the British Columbia entry in the Macdonald's Brier curling championship, a Trail foursome, is making a fine bid for top national honors. The B.C. rink is matching rocks with Alberta at the head of the standings. Were it to win the Macdonald trophy the victory would be a notable one, sure to please all B.C. curlers. This year even such a triumph, however, would be overshadowed by knowledge that next year the series will be held in Victoria.

Curling is now one of the major activities on the national scene. It can claim some 1,600 clubs and over 100,000 active participants from coast to coast. The broad base of a huge pyramid narrows to the apex of the Macdonald's Brier trophy, the goal of the leading provincial rinks. This playoff series now rivals the Grey and Stanley cup games in stature and it is a distinct feather in B.C.'s cap that it should have been awarded to Victoria next year. There has been of course generous recognition by eastern interests that next year is B.C.'s centenary and the delight that will ensue by making the Macdonald's Brier one of the centennial attractions, a sporting gesture by eastern curlers which will not go unappreciated.

For Victoria it means the privilege of promoting one of the three top events of the country, and a boost to the centennial program. The series will draw many curlers from all over Canada, in numbers that may tax the capacity of the Memorial Arena, where the playoff will be staged. Hearty congratulations are in order to the various Victoria curling officials who went all-out, first to extend the invitation and second to persuade Macdonald's Brier authorities that the honor of staging the 1958 series should be theirs. This happy outcome is a typical reflection of the enthusiasm and initiative which have marked curling since the building of a rink here a few years ago. If all other local agencies interested in centennial projects were to emulate their example the Victoria celebrations would be certain of success.

"She says someone has already called and asked them to join the Doctors' Strike. They had him for lunch."

Thinking Aloud

"... of shoes—and ships—and sealing wax—of cabbages and kings."

By TOM TAYLOR

YOUR face, your build, your mind may be individual but if you are one of the 96 per cent of the human race that lifts a right hand to pick up a pencil you are cast in the common mould.

Actually the left-handers are the distinctive beings.

We take such things for granted without second thought although a southpaw, to invoke a sporting term, conceivably has another view on the subject.

Society puts him in an awkward spot.

Except for a telephone receiver the world is set up for right-handers. Switches, pulls, and most other gadgets are put in position to suit the vast majority of mankind.

For instance, as another writer has pointed out, the right hand of the captain directs the intrument which conveys an order to the engineer. The right hand of the engineer pulls the lever. The right hand of an author puts his ideas on paper. The right hand of the orator drives home his argument, and the right hand of the blacksmith delivers the stroke of the hammer.

* * *

Perhaps that is why the radical is termed a "leftist," meaning that he departs from the norm of the majority.

Apparently right-handedness has been the rule with men and women in all regions and at all past stages of human development. Whether preferred use of the right hand is an acquired or a native habit has long been a source of argument.

The very young child is influenced by parental edict and example, much as he grows up to be a Liberal or a Conservative or an Anglican or a Baptist just because that is the fashion at home.

The subtle strands of environment are insidious.

This adds force to the notion that left-handers are distinctive as well as unusual. They must have had strong character to persist in the face of stern injunction.

And there is no respite for them in a world built for the right hand.

For instance, even though the inclination may be the other way round it is the right hand they must extend in greeting unless they happen to be Boy Scouts. I wonder what made Baden-Powell think of a southpaw gesture; unless it were to leave the right hand free to live up to the motto: "Be Prepared."

* * *

By this same token, also, most democratic peoples are right-handed in mind as well as in practice, since they are seldom prepared for emergency.

Carrying this thought a bit further you might discern the reason for designating the "leftist," who always seems to have more pep to his manoeuvres than those on the opposite side of the fence.

Whether the real southpaw is more active than the right-hander I have never observed. Recollection of playing fields days is no help, for many an athlete plays on the left side of the field although using his right hand or foot for preference under circumstances. A good athlete of course will deliberately make himself versatile.

None of this should mean, however, that the hand of fellowship is necessarily the right hand. The left-handers, even if they only comprise four per cent, should also get into the credit picture.

We talk about somebody being the right-hand of somebody else, and perhaps all the time he is a southpaw. There is something wrong somewhere.

Moscow Reduces Economic Aid

By W. N. EWER, from London

THE Soviet government has informed the Yugoslav government that two important industrial projects for which Soviet aid had been promised must be postponed.

The first is a big aluminum plant at Niksic in Montenegro, for which Yugoslavia under an agreement signed in August, was to be given a $175,000,000 credit, provided jointly by the Soviet Union and Eastern Germany. The other is the first of three fertilizer plants, for which credits had also been pledged.

The reason given is that postponement is necessary because of "heavy commitments elsewhere."

It is further evidence that recent developments in Eastern Europe have compelled Moscow to revise its plans for investment and economic aid. For economic reasons the program must be reduced. For political reasons, allocations will be more carefully selective.

It is not surprising that Yugoslavia should have been chosen for a major "cut." When the agreements were made Moscow was still hopefully working to draw President Tito back into the "Soviet camp." The policy initiated by Khrushchev's visit to Belgrade was still being followed. Yugoslavia was marked out as the "most favored nation" among the recipients of economic assistance.

* * *

But the repercussions of the Hungarian events changed all that. There is new estrangement between Moscow and Belgrade. President Tito is out of favor in the Kremlin. So the promised credits are stopped. With the hint that if Yugoslav policy during the next few years were to win new Soviet approval they might be forthcoming again in 1960.

The political motives are very evident. But there is no reason to question the explanation of "heavy commitments elsewhere." "Elsewhere" means the East European countries of the Soviet economic orbit—members of COMECON: the Committee for Mutual Economic Assistance, through which, and through other means, their economies have been closely linked with that of the Soviet Union.

Until last year the balance of exchanges between Russia and her satellites had been so organized as to be considerably in Russia's favor. The satellites were being exploited for the advantage of the Soviet Union. And this provided valuable additions to Russia's export potential for use in economic penetration (in various forms, and from various motives) of the countries outside the Soviet orbit itself.

* * *

Within the past six months that picture has been completely changed. The European satellites, formerly a valuable asset, have become a serious liability. Instead of being exploited, they have to be assisted. The result is a sharp reduction in Soviet resources available for politico-economic activities in other regions.

In part the change has been a direct consequence of what has happened in Poland and Hungary. Polish coal exports to Eastern Germany—no longer dictated by Moscow—have been reduced by 30 per cent. The result has been an acute crisis, necessitating immediate aid from Russia. The drop in Hungarian bauxite deliveries has caused dislocation in Czechoslovak industries. Disruption of road and rail communities has affected shipments of Roumanian oil. Some of this is, of course, temporary, but by no means all of it. Even before the events of October the Soviet orbit was moving rapidly towards a crisis. This, indeed, was one of the main causes of the Polish and Hungarian revolts.

Soviet exploitation had been excessive. The satellite cows were milked dry. In addition to this Moscow-dictated economic policies of the Communist governments have had disastrous results. It is not only that there has been an excessive concentration on the production of capital goods and of goods for export to Russia. Even more serious has been the neglect or mismanagement of agriculture. It has brought a shortage of food. It has brought migration from the country to the towns. That has been partly organized and deliberate, to increase the industrial "labor force"; partly flight from intolerable rural conditions.

* * *

One effect has been to create an unemployment problem. That, to the communists, has been pertubing. For it is the Marxist tenet that unemployment is the phenomenon of capitalism. It cannot exist in "socialist" society. Yet, now, it begins to exist. In Bulgaria, for example, the government with Soviet aid is arranging to combat it. Unemployed Bulgarian workers are to "migrate temporarily to the Soviet Union." They are to be "transferred to the eastern areas of the U.S.S.R."—which means Siberia. The same thing begins to show itself in the other satellites.

Faced by this, and by its resultant discontent, the Soviet government has had no alternative. The satellites must have aid, and they must have first priority in aid. The figures are difficult to come by. But at a low estimate the Soviet Union, instead of receiving a net revenue from its European satellites, must in the last twelve months have been giving them in one form or another credits and loans of over $500,000,000.

That means that there is $500,000,000 less available for operations in other countries. All programs of "economic aid" have to be drastically scaled down. Scaling down will be selective. Any country which looks to Russia for any kind of help will have to pay a higher political price. Laws of supply and demand begin to operate. Soviet supplies are more limited. Therefore the Soviet demands will be higher.

"Postponement" of Soviet aid for the Niksic aluminum plant has implications which go far beyond Yugoslavia.

The Packsack

of GREGORY CLARK

AT the press club the other day an indignant citizen who was a guest declared:

"You newspapermen think you know everything!"

"No," replied the wisest amongst us, "it isn't our function to know everything. It is our function to know who knows."

And a better epigram to describe the true function and duty of newspapers I never heard.

True, there used to be a familiar cartoon type of newspaperman who wore either a Christie stiff hat, slightly green with age, and carrying a cane; or else a wide-brimmed hat rakishly balanced upon a Lauriat plume of hair. This was later followed by a cartoon type celebrated in Ben Hecht's "Front Page" movie: hat on the back of head, coat collar turned up, haggard face, with down-turned mouth, full of hard-boiled cynicism. But even in the time of these legends, the real newspaperman was a wholly indistinguishable citizen whose profession was not to know, but to find out; whose real value to the community or the state was not to know, but to know who knew.

Today, it is totally impossible to know everything. It was equally impossible 50 years ago. The enormous rate of increase in human knowledge, let alone human activity, has made it absurd for any man, even in the forefront of scientific exploration or of dynamic flood political change, to pretend to know the whole picture. A good editor 50 years ago was one who knew who knew. Today, a good editor is one who knows good sub-editors who know who knows.

To know who knows is in itself no longer an easy assignment. But in a changing world it is still true that the newspaper's dedication to knowing who knows is still the reason that newspapers are a fundamental element in our society. When we listen to the news broadcasts on radio or TV, we are a little inclined to suppose that the gentleman giving us the news are the authorities for it. We forget that it was the newspaperman who supplied them with their bulletins. And as for the commentators, the gentlemen who venture into the field of interpretation, I cannot help, as an old news hound, imagining I see on their heads Christie stiff hats, a little green with age.

To know who knows is still the most important thing in the world, for all of us.

NATO Defence Cuts Timed

By MILTON MARMOR
Associated Press Correspondent

LONDON (AP)—Great Britain today finds herself in a defence dilemma that calls for a display of all the diplomatic skill this country has developed. The problem is this:

Because of economic difficulties and the need to reshape the pattern of its military set-up to fit the nuclear age, Britain has decided it must cut the size of troop commitments to West Germany for the defence of Western Europe. Britain's allies oppose the cuts.

Britain could disregard the views of WEU and NATO partners and just slash forces in West Germany to 50,000 from 80,000. WEU is the Western European Union, a seven-nation collective defence pact; NATO is the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

* * *

But Britain is bound by an agreement not to "withdraw" her four divisions in West Germany without consent of the majority of WEU. Britain does not want to violate a treaty obligation.

A cut in the size of the Western defence shield could imperil the entire alliance. A chain reaction could set in with other powers deciding to cut their own contributions to NATO. NATO has less than half the strength deemed necessary by Gen. Lauris Norstad, supreme commander.

In 1954, to win French approval for West German rearmament, Sir Anthony Eden promised to put four divisions into Western Germany.

This Paris agreement of Oct. 23, 1954, led to creation of WEU. Under it Britain agreed "not to withdraw these forces against the wishes of the majority of the high contracting parties who should take their decision in the knowledge of the views of the Supreme Allied Commander of Europe."

When WEU foreign ministers met here last week, all six allies spoke frankly against the British plan. When NATO met in Paris, all members also were firmly against it.

Garrulous Garnish

(From The Toronto Globe and Mail)

You'll never get your doctor to prescribe it, but we suggest you try our Blank-Blank anyway; you may be one of the lucky cases where it works.

Hardly anybody advertises like this, of course; least of all in the broadcast field, where the understatement is not exactly a post-graduate course. Indeed, any announcer who gave forth with one would be rapidly removed from the air. For people want whatever ails them to be given a status, be it virus, itis or osis; and nothing is so fashionable as to see little worms on the screen being vanquished by the invariably effervescent fury of the nostrum.

And herein lies one of the peculiar contradictions of human tolerance: That with the printed word, exhortative brevity is not only mandatory but is the essence of strength, while the spoken word seeks its full flourish in profligacy and abandon. This, while the written advertisement usually confines itself to material, use and price, the spoken word is borne on its own wind into the glib realm of "ballyhoo, hucksterism and gimmicks" which has so annoyed President Isabel Atkinson of the Canadian Association of Consumers.

Even the spot announcements are pumped full of language and rattled off so fast that few ever remember what they were about. And the garrulous garnish of the full-blown commercial must not only name the product a dozen times or more, but the entire harangue be embellished with the ultimate intimacies of its use, until the squeamish viewer who is intended to be seduced ends up more often with a premonition that he is about to be sick.

For this is the age of misery and of endless appetite for repetition. Songs, jokes, epigrams and all the paraphernalia of the entertainment peddlers are passed around until they wear out, not for any intrinsic worth but simply because everybody else is saying them. If this promiscuity has affected the commercials it is not surprising. So when the CAC president inveighs against exploitation in advertising she might be well advised to call her shots. Like the "hucksterism" which vexes her, the largeless broadside is also apt to be pointless.

Letters to the Editor

Force for Freedom

Your readers will warmly welcome the timely editorial "Abdication with Honor" in a recent issue referring to hastening evolution of English-speaking colonies into independent nations. One indeed is recorded in the newspaper that very day. It is an adequate rebuttal to the harsh vituperations attributed to a man of India known as Nehru, now a full-fledged member of the "League of Lion Tail-twisters" a very popular pastime.

It was the avowed policy of Britain's Parliament as voiced by the first William Pitt over one hundred years ago when debating colonial problems that the "colonies" should eventually become independent as soon as circumstances warranted. This has been amply demonstrated within our lifetime.

The little island under the North Star is still among the wisest of nations on this passionate planet and will continue as one of the great moulding forces for the protection and fostering of human liberties within and without her own realms in the onward and upward march towards the stars.

GERALD S. REES.

2537 Fernwood Road, Victoria, B.C.

Red Schoolhouse Level

I don't believe anyone expects the little red schoolhouse to be good enough for the modern child, and great-grandparents of present-day school children are struggled to educate their children during the depression era (without benefit of baby bonus), but now are taxed to provide posh schools. It seems unfair to expect these senior citizens to go on and on contributing to the cost of education, especially when it is remembered that most of the parents of school-age children are in the age group which "demand" and receive salary increases from time to time. For that reason their standards have climbed from the little red schoolhouse level to the level of the up-to-date modern home with its modern facilities.

It should not be overlooked that the purchasing power of the meagre savings (if any) of our senior citizens is diminishing like ice melting in the sun. Does labor when it "demands" more, and management when it raises prices, realize they are being parasitical, actually living to a great extent on those with fixed incomes; for these latter are compelled to pay the increased prices without benefit of compensating income increase.

So perhaps Mr. Edgelow's suggestion that the school board levy its own taxes might not be a bad idea after all, provided the board collected from the persons directly concerned and not from those who cannot afford anything above the little red schoolhouse level.

M. W. SEDGLEY.

431 Heather Street, Victoria, B.C.

Cost of Schools

Oldsters living on pensions, annuities or other fixed incomes will certainly make an effort to vote on Saturday, as it will be an opportunity to vote against inflation.

They will feel also that the mere thought of $40,000 school rooms is almost immoral when we know that the required wealth (concentrated in the cities) originates to a great extent in those small settlements scattered all over our huge province such as lumber camps, mining centres, cannery and fishing villages, and agriculture areas. We are told that only 15 per cent of our working force in British Columbia is thus employed in these primary industries.

Those of us who have visited any of these small settlements know that the children living there are never provided with school facilities in any way comparable to those of the larger centres of population. In a democracy this is regrettable.

Perhaps education by radio and television will in a few years be very helpful to this tremendous province and require a somewhat less elaborate classroom than the $40,000 variety proposed at this time for the Greater Victoria school area.

Drop Curbs On Shopping Mayor Asks

Mayor Percy Scurrah said yesterday he will suggest that city council ask Victoria members of the legislature to press for a six-day shopping week over a longer period than the two summer months allowed in the proposed new Municipal Act.

The proposed act calls for closing of shops at noon one weekday a week, but allows councils to permit them to stay open a full six days a week in July and August.

Two Victoria groups expressed disappointment over this provision yesterday and a third organization said the demand for a six-day shopping week is "being pushed down the public's throat."

"In view of the fact that the provincial government has accepted the principle of the six-day shopping week, the committee finds it difficult to understand why the government restricted it to two months of the year," said a Six-Day Shopping Week Committee statement.

"The tourist season is not of two month's duration but is a year-round business.

SLAM DOOR

"Surely we do not propose to slam the door in visitors' faces at noon each Wednesday, other than in July and August."

A Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau statement, also expressing disappointment, was issued by Conway Parrott, president.

"The short period of six-day shopping provided by the new act, while helpful during the peak summer months, does not meet the tourist requirements of this area," the statement said, "and the six-day shopping week should be on an all-year basis in Victoria."

The three-year-old Five Day Action Committee composed of retail clerks said it could not approve of six-day shopping for 52 weeks in the year.

"Shopping hours should be left as they are," said the committee spokesman, P. C. McEwan. "We hope the public will not swallow all the phoney demands for the six-day week plus night shopping."

Measles Sweeps Through Districts

A cyclical measles epidemic which cut into elementary school attendance in the Saanich health district was reported on the wane yesterday.

But the wave appeared to be rolling on through the Victoria-Esquimalt health district.

Dr. A. N. Beattie, Saanich Medical officer, said that since the start of the epidemic in his district in late December, 395 cases had been reported.

Dr. Elizabeth Mahaffy, victoria-Esquimalt medical health officer, said the wave of measles cases had started in Esquimalt two weeks ago, was now at George Jay School and was on the upgrade.

The district had 13 cases in the week ended March 4, she said.

Recent had years for measles were in 1949 when there were 918 cases in the large Saanich health district, and 1954 when there were 782 cases. There were 450 cases in the district last year.

Red Cross campaign total in Greater Victoria rose to $11,278 yesterday, a gain of more than $2,000 in a day. Goal is $79,500. To publicize the campaign, Red Cross Lodge, Richmond Road, will hold open house from 3 to 5 p.m. Sunday.

The majority of Hungarian refugees taken into Victoria homes are now getting at least part-time work, James McDonald, acting immigration department superintendent here said yesterday.

A "very, very small number" had to be returned to the immigration building because families here found they could not afford to keep them, he said.

Persons having part-time or steady work are asked to call Mrs. S. Rogers at 2-3527, or Mrs. A. J. Romano at 2-5887, as well as the immigration department at 3-3513.

City council finance committee found a way around a technicality yesterday.

The city solicitor had expressed doubt that under the present Municipal Act, city council had power to make a grant of $250 toward the cost of the Victoria Girls' Drill Team going to an international Lions' convention in San Francisco in June.

The committee decided to recommend that council agree to make the grant July 1 if the proposed new Municipal Act, giving council wider powers, is passed. The new act will become effective on that date.

Public reaction to revision of the Municipal Act will be tested for the first time at the polls in the Saanich by-election Saturday, candidate Stanley Murphy said last night.

Mr. Murphy said he believes he is the only candidate of the five seeking office that believes in amalgamation study.

Building Vote

School Board Gives Answers

Since the defeat of the school building referendum in Greater Victoria last December many questions have been asked, both publicly and privately, about school construction and school financing. In an attempt to get answers before the referendum is re-submitted in March, the Colonist approached the Greater Victoria School Board.

Answers to several of the questions appear today, and others will follow in subsequent editions.

Readers are invited to send their own questions to the Colonist. The school board will provide its answers.

WHAT GOVERNS THE LOCATION OF SCHOOLS?

Placement of schools in Greater Victoria is governed by these factors. First, where the children to be served by the school actually live. Second, the availability of property. Third, the need for special instruction and where classes offering this can be located best for all concerned.

Greater Victoria School District offers a splendid example of how schools can be located to serve various regions economically irrespective of municipal boundaries. Duplication of schools with similar facilities is being avoided. For example, the single large junior high at Lansdowne takes the place of two schools that otherwise would be needed in that area, one on the edge of Victoria and one near the southern boundary of Saanich.

At present, several hundred students cross municipal boundaries daily. Some are attending Victoria High and the F. T. Fairey Vocational-Technical School for courses in advanced commercial and technical work. These courses have been made possible by special grants from the federal government. Obviously, it would be more costly to equip and operate small centres at widely scattered points throughout the school district.

In addition, there are students from all over the district attending classes set up at George Jay School for non-English speaking children and at South Park for special instruction. These are located in the city of Victoria chiefly because they can be reached easily by bus and space, not useful for other purposes, is available.

Africa Refuses . . . Eli's Chosen Six

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—Eli's Chosen Six, a jazz group made up of six Yale University students, has been denied visas for a tour of South Africa. Apparently the government objected to its playing for Negro audiences. The six white students applied for visas last year but were informed only two weeks ago they would not be granted.

Uranium Outlook Improves

TORONTO (CP)—Uraniums and selected issues in other sections Thursday moved the stock list to a strong advance amid active trading.

Comments by some experts in the uranium industry that there will not be a letdown in demand for the mineral after 1962, apparently spurred investors to send issues still higher, following gains in each session this week.

The uranium interest spread to other sections across the board and they all closed higher. Base metals recorded a two-point gain on their index and industrials climbed 1¾ points. Western oils were ahead 1⅛ points on their index.

International Nickel featured senior base metals, jumping 2¼ to 100.

McColl and Associated Artists led industrials, each gaining 2½ points.

Home Oil featured western oils, adding 1⅞ to 16⅝. Home A gained 1⅛ at 16¾. Canadian Atlantic recorded a 35-cent rise to $6.70. Canada Southern Pete was up 65 cents to $7.85 in light trading.

Nickel at $100

MONTREAL (CP) — The Montreal and Canadian stock exchanges Thursday closed irregularly higher with industrial advances ranging to two points.

International Nickel paced the increases in base metals, climbing two points to 100. In oils, McColl moved up a point to 93 while B-A and Canadian Oil advanced in minor fractions.

Papers were mixed. B.C. Forest moved ahead ¼. Among utilities Calgary Power at 62 and B.C. Power at 43 each dropped ⅛. Banks and construction were ahead in fractions ranging to ⅜.

Mines showed increases.

N.Y. Tide Turns

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market took a mild setback Thursday, snipping off its run of daily rises at four straight.

It was an irregular decline and some of the statistics were contradictory. But the weight of the evidence was to the downside.

The session started higher but irregularity set in about mid-day and thereafter the trend was mostly down. Prices were at their worst at the close.

Oils Show Gains

VANCOUVER — Capital Estates at 4.50 was a strong feature in the industrial list, while the gas distributors, Inland and Midwest, remained firm. Sun "B" added 25 cents at 11.75.

Demand Slackens

LONDON (Reuters) — Current and prospective demand on the capital market restricted activity. International politics also were a restraining influence.

Scattered declines were noted in government securities although a rallying tendency was evident in places.

Japanese bonds firmed in an otherwise quiet foreign section.

White Pass issues were favored in rails.

In industrials the leaders tended easier toward the close. However, British American Tobacco improved.

Hudson's Bay made steady progress. International Nickel moved up sharply.

South African gold shares improved and coppers were better where changed. Oil shares steadied.

Grain Prices

WINNIPEG (CP) — Prices generally showed weakness in moderately active trading.

Fairly liberal selling of oats, barley and rye was reported. New seasonal lows were recorded for all months on oats and barley.

Some of the selling on all three grains was attributed to American interests. Commercial support was on the thin side. Processors were buyers of barley and there were some domestic shipping orders for both oats and barley.

Export loadings of Canadian wheat included: United Kingdom 1,350,000 bushels, Belgium 310,000, West Germany 155,000 and Guatemala, a small quantity.

CHICAGO (AP) — Wheat futures prices held steady for a time and then fell off more than a cent in some cases.

Longs in wheat were discouraged by the fact there was little lifting of hedges in the Chicago market. Some elevator interests also sold wheat.

Crash Kills Logger

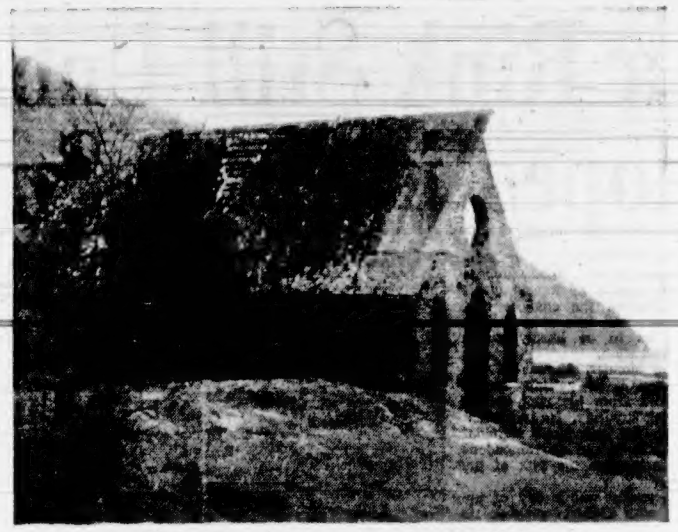
GANGES — Hugo Gremlich, 64-year-old logger, was killed in a traffic accident two miles south of Ganges on the Ganges-Fulford highway Wednesday.

His body was found pinned under his old-model pickup truck and could not be moved until a tow truck lifted the vehicle free.

His truck was badly damaged, but upright in the ditch.

Observers said it appeared that he had lost control of the truck, then had hit a power pole and careened into the ditch.

Gremlich was born in Switzerland and had no known relatives in Canada. He had lived on Salt Spring Island at least 20 years.



Indians Drop Opposition to Whites

Negotiations are progressing between Cowichan Indians and Prevost Post, No. 10, Native Sons of B.C., for an agreement to restore and allow access to the historic Old Stone Church on Comiaken Hill. Elwood Modeste, Cowichan chief, complained recently that some years ago a home was destroyed by fire started in the grass by visitors. Opposition to the whites has now been overcome and talks are going ahead on an agreement which would provide necessary safeguards against fire, unnecessary trespass and possible damage.

Centennial Projects Favored

PORT ALBERNI—A centennial committee was set up here at a public meeting Wednesday night.

The 18-member group, which includes representatives of both Alberni and Port Alberni city councils, was appointed following discussion of four projects, proposed as undertakings for the district under the plan for applying government grants to permanent centennial projects.

Each of the proposals found supporters among the 60 persons at the meeting.

The proposed projects include development of Alberni District High School grounds, providing a standard 440-yard cinder track, soccer pitch and tennis courts; a civic centre; improvement of Tenth Avenue ball park; a tourist information centre to serve the district and West Coast.

Ald. W. C. Hamilton offered to give land if his suggestion for a log cabin tourist bureau were accepted. He suggested that a mountain stream could be channeled into a fountain, the surrounding property landscaped and, eventually, an Alberni Valley museum built on the site.

On the committee which will study suggestions are Ald. J. R. Dalby and Ald. E. Weaver, Port Alberni; Ald. Chas. Blair and Ald. Terry Neale, Alberni; Irving Wilson, Jack Moore, Andy Patterson, George McKnight, Jack Gilbert, George Wall, Fred Duncan, A. C. Flanagan, Alex Rowan, D. J. S. Smith, Gordon Schoffield, W. F. Ramsay, D. Nickerson and C. M. Tassie.

Mayor ... was elected chairman and Mr. Moore, secretary.

Cut Sea Rates, Nanaimo Asks CPR

Critical Stage For NATO Says Expert

The North Atlantic Treaty Organization has reached, in a sense, a critical stage, R. S. Ritchie of Vancouver told the Rotary Club of Victoria yesterday.

Mr. Ritchie, a student of international affairs and author of a book on NATO, said the alliance must determine if it can agree upon and execute a military program that takes into account the new forms of warfare, so that the western world can achieve continuing security.

It must also determine if it can achieve the political and economic unity necessary to underpin that security, Mr. Ritchie said.

To do both, he said, would allies to prove to the two billion people not yet in either camp, over generations perhaps, that "the western world and not the Soviets have the key to the world's well-being."

OLD STEAM CAR

The first automobile powered by steam was produced by the French inventor Nicholas Cugnot in 1769.

NANAIMO (CP) — The freight rates and traffic committee of Nanaimo Trade and Industry Bureau will press for special shipping rates to compete in sea shipping with other coastal cities.

The committee met Thursday with Reg Elmer, secretary of the freight rates and traffic committee of the Vancouver Board of Trade. Members decided to press Canadian Pacific Railway for special concessions on outgoing goods shipped from new industries which locate here.

Wholesalers importing by sea will be asked to combine orders in a least 500-ton lots, cutting costs.

Nanaimo, Mr. Elmer told the committee, has advantages in rates over Victoria, but must receive special concessions to compete with Vancouver.

NANAIMO — Harewood ratepayers have approved a proposed sewer scheme which will ultimately cost $430,000.

Trustees asked to purchase a right-of-way from Canadian Collieries for sewer purposes at a cost of $6,000.

The sewer system, which is to be a joint effort under the Greater Nanaimo Water Board, will eventually serve 55,000 people. Harewood's share of the preliminary survey is $1,600, or two-fifths of the total cost. City pays the remainder.

DUNCAN — Inquest into the death of Bernard George, 30-year-old longshoreman, who was drowned when he fell from the deck of a freighter in Chemainus harbor Monday, will be held in Chemainus tonght.

The body of the Westholme man was recovered after two hours by frogman Bill Harrison of Duncan and frogman Alex McCracken of Nanaimo.

NANAIMO — A talk by Dr. Lionel Kerwood, medical superintendent at Woodlands School for Retarded Children at New Westminster, prompted 15 people to form a group, now known as the Nanaimo Branch of the B.C. Association for Retarded Children.

They are: J. Hume Copton, L. Spearing, Mrs. Dorothy Kneen, Mr. and Mrs. Russ Inkster, O. Waldriff, Dr. Don McKerricher, Ernie Miller, Miss Margaret Jones, Miss Laura Campbell, W. H. C. Cochrane, Cliff Burnip, Mrs. Annie Clark, Mrs. Margaret Davidson and Miss Sheila Dwyer.

Plans will be made to establish a school for retarded children in Nanaimo.

Four Years

NANAIMO — The armed holdup of Nanaimo store owner Mrs. E. M. Pattison Victoria Road on Oct. 4, resulted in William Edward Cadger, 24, of Vancouver going to penitentiary for four years.

Pleading not guilty before Judge A. Hanna in county court Monday, Cadger claimed he was either drinking beer or asleep in a car at the time of the incident. He called no witnesses.

Alberta Rink Still Unbeaten; B.C. Hopes in Brier Smashed

By JIM TANG
Colonist Sports Editor

KINGSTON — Visions of an unprecedented four-rink playoff for the Canadian Curling Championship were dashed here Thursday night as Matt Baldwin and his Edmonton Granite Club crew edged by Reg. Stone's British Columbia rink, 13-10, in a spectacular 13-ender.

An Alberta defeat would have set up a possible playoff between the four western rinks—if Manitoba could have handed Baldwin a second defeat this morning.

That would almost certainly have seen B.C., Alberta, Manitoba and Saskatchewan wind up with identical 8-2 records. As it is, you can count on it that Alberta has its sixth Macdonald's Brier winner, and that Baldwin will become the sixth skip to win the prized tankard more than once.

Alberta has to play Manitoba and Nova Scotia today and while the Winnipeg four skipped by Howie Wood, Jr., is quite capable of knocking off the leaders, the chances that Baldwin will lose twice are so slim as to be barely worth consideration.

The slender, 30-year-old Edmontonian is getting steady support from his rink and is curling superbly. He is without doubt the individual standout of this Brier and his tremendous shotmaking is the talk of the town.

Yesterday was a day of upsets with Ontario playing its best game to get by British Columbia and New Brunswick scoring the biggest surprise of the 1957 championships by trimming Manitoba. The Maritimers could do little wrong and Manitoba little right. The final score would have been an amazing 19-7 had New Brunswick skip Ken Everett made his last rock.

The afternoon draw changed the complexion of the Brier. Saskatchewan got by British Columbia in the morning with a five on the ninth end and while New Brunswick practically ended Manitoba's hopes with its shocker, there was still every possibility of a two, or three-rink playoff. British Columbia was 6-1, Saskatchewan was 5-1 and Alberta 6-0.

British Columbia's hopes for a Macdonald's Brier championship were smashed yesterday when they lost three successive games to Saskatchewan, Ontario and Alberta, after posting six straight victories at Kingston. Members are, left to right: E. Gordon, B. McGibbney, Roy Stone and skip Reg Stone.—(CP)

Changes Quickly

Suddenly, Saskatchewan and B.C. had nothing left but the hope that Baldwin would lose two of his last three games. Skip Garnet Campbell missed an easy shot with his last rock to lose to Manitoba and the veteran Orillia rink representing Ontario finally hit peak form to upset British Columbia's strugglers.

Northern Ontario gave Alberta a stiff tussle but skip Don McEwen missed his chance for an extra end.

British Columbia made a gallant last stand in the sensational battle against Alberta but only ended up with a new record of being the only rink to play as many as three extra-end games in one playdown.

With his off-color front end a bit better, skip Reg Stone came through with pressure shot after pressure shot to keep it close. He was helped all the way by brother Roy, who has been as consistent a third as any here. The Trail brothers, both seasoned veterans, both had 45 points out of a possible 52.

Stone was beaten by "biters." He had to concede two three-enders during the last six ends and five of the six counters were in the outer rings.

Just the same, B.C. seemed to have it won on the 12th. The rink made eight perfect rocks and two Alberta misses on stiff runners had Stone laying three with each rink having four rocks to come. There were no more misses and when Stone came down for his last rock, Alberta was laying shot just in front of the button.

But B.C. had second shot in a cluster of two B.C. and one Alberta rock in the eight-foot ring at 9 o'clock. Stone spilled a shot rock but was a shade heavy and rolled too far to miss his chance for two.

Baldwin had to play his last shot on the extra end. Stone sliding to the back of the house in the 12-foot ring in an attempt to bury his last rock. Baldwin had perfect weight to bump Stone out and count three.

It ended a game that matched in suspense and shotmaking the epic B.C.-Alberta struggle on Wednesday. There wasn't a shot in the hooks, it seemed, that the two Stones and Baldwin couldn't make.

Roy Stone missed two of his first three rocks, had only one other miss in his last 23, making 22 of them perfect and once rolling out on a takeout. Reg missed his first rock of the game and his last on the seventh and rolled out three times on takeouts.

Baldwin had only one complete miss and it appeared as if he didn't care about starting on several take outs when his rock rolled out. Baldwin was rolling behind guards on takeouts, laid perfect guards, and drew to perfection. No one in the crowd of more than 3,500 left until the last rock had come to rest.

Extra end: Baldwin had second-man Art Kleinmeyer spill an Alberta rock on the extra end. It was laying in the eight-foot ring and after B.C.'s Buzz McGibney had been overweight on an attempt to freeze; Baldwin decided it was safer out of the rings . . . Kleinmeyer dis as asked, rolling out himself . . . Glen, third for the Campbell Brothers, didn't miss a rock in the game against B.C., rolling out twice on takeouts to miss a perfect 18 points by two.

Second Don had 42 points and lead Lloyd had 38, but skip Garnet was again not quite his usual perfect self and it almost Saskatchewan the game . . . Garnet was once again heavy in the game against Manitoba and slid by a rock on the tee line in the eight-foot ring to leave Manitoba with tying and winning rocks . . . Ole Olsen of Edmonton, who supplied curlers with exceptionally keen ice, has accepted an invitation to be ice maker for the first annual U.S. championships, which open in Chicago March 27 . . . and Ken Watson, only skip to win three Brier tankards, is going to Chicago as "commissioner of play." That means he will manage the event . . .

Different ideas on game strategy between Howie Wood, Jr., and third Bill Sharpe haven't been helping the Manitoba cause. It's no secret the two won't be together next season . . . skip Jiggs Macdonald of the hard-luck Prince Edward Island rink was credited with 24 perfect shots in the 13-5 victory over Nova Scotia which put his rink into the win column . . . The Islanders made it two wins on the evening draw after trailing by 8-2 against Newfoundland starting the eighth end. Macdonald and his crew counted on the last five ends . . . the West retained the prized "mug" in the third annual east-west press-and-radio curling classic with a great finish.

Remember When:

Howie Morenz, one of the all-time hockey greats, died in a Montreal hospital 20 years ago tonight. Only 35 years old, the Montreal Canadiens star had been making a great comeback in his 14th NHL season when he suffered a broken leg in a game at Montreal. His death resulted from a heart attack.

Boston Crowd Unhappy As Wings Snap Slump

ALEX DELVECCHIO
. . . breaks loose

Detroit Red Wings snapped a six-game losing streak and extended their National Hockey League lead over the Montreal Canadiens to five points last night by downing Boston Bruins, 4-2, before a capacity crowd of 13,909 fans at Boston Gardens.

The victory was the Wings' first since they scored a 6-2 win over the Bruins at Detroit, Feb. 17, a stretch of seven games in which they blew part of an eight-point lead over the Canadiens.

The Boston crowd frequently hooted its displeasure at the unusually-inept performance of the Bruins, and one fan added some color to the proceedings by hurling a large blob of green powder on the ice.

Alex Delvecchio scored two goals and assisted on another to lead the Wings, and Gordie Howe, the leading scorer in the NHL, tallied his 80th point of the season with an assist on a goal by Norm Ullman. Lorne Ferguson scored the other Red Wing goal, while Vic Stasiuk and Fernie Flaman scored the Bruin goals.

WILSON TIES

At Chicago, Johnny Wilson's 16th goal of the season with less than two minutes remaining gave the Hawks a tie. Ed Litzenberger scored the other Chicago goal, his 30th, and the point made him the highest Chicago scorer since Bill Mosienko fired 31 in the 1951-52 season.

All four goals were scored in the third period, and all came on power plays. Litzenberger opened scoring at 1:42. Dave Creighton tied it up, and Andy Hebenton put the Rangers ahead at 14:57.

Kilburn Expresses Optimism; Cougars Face Royals Tonight

LARRY LEACH
. . . out with injuries

COLIN KILBURN
. . . full of optimism

It takes more than a three-game losing streak and the loss of a player to dent the optimism of coach Colin Kilburn regarding the playoff chances of his Victoria Cougars.

Kilburn, who sends his club against New Westminster Royals at Memorial Arena tonight at 8:30, explained his views on the situation yesterday.

"All our chances of reaching the playoffs depend on a couple of forwards who haven't been producing. If they come through, we'll be all right."

"We've got one game in hand over the Vancouver Canucks, and it's a home game on Monday against Winnipeg. We win tonight and Monday, and we'll go into Vancouver the same way we did a week ago—one point ahead of them."

He didn't say "if we win." He said "we win."

LEACH OUT

This in spite of the fact that the Cougars have just returned from a disastrous road trip in which they lost three games in five nights, and also lost the services, at least temporarily, of Larry Leach.

Leach, part of the steadily-improving Cougar third line, injured his back Saturday night in Seattle when the Cougars were beaten, 3-2, in overtime. He has taken his turn on the ice only once since then, and will not dress tonight.

Taking Leach's place at right wing on a line with Gordie Haworth and Bruce Carmichael will be Lionel Heinrich, the speedy defenceman who has often taken a turn on the front line.

"Other than Leach, everybody's healthy," Kilburn said. "And the other two lines will be the same."

That puts Kilburn at left wing with Doug Anderson at centre and Don Chupka on right wing of the first line. Ray Powell will centre the second unit, flanked by Wayne Brown and Doug Macauley.

THREE ON DEFENCE

With Heinrich playing forward, Bill Dobbyn, Bill Davidson and Nels Bulloch will handle the defence chores.

Royals, trying to overhaul Seattle Americans in the late stages of the Western Hockey League race, arrive in Victoria fresh from a 4-2 victory over the Cougars on home ice Wednesday night. However, on the basis of performances this season, the Cougars stand a good chance of defeating the New Westminster team.

The clubs have met six times at Memorial Arena, and the Cougars have won five of them, by scores of 3-1, 6-4, 3-0, 7-1 and 2-0.

Victoria Rink Gains First-Round Triumph

NANAIMO (Special)—Play in the annual Nanaimo bonspiel moved into full swing yesterday with the 32s, and, in some cases, the 16s in the two primary events being reached up to the early-morning draw.

The Vancouver Sun and Nanaimo Free Press events are the two primary events.

Gordie Robertson, one of two Victoria rinks entered in the five-day bonspiel, opened with an 8-7, extra-end victory over H. Christopherson of Vancouver in the Vancouver Sun primary.

J. Lannigan of Victoria lost his opening round Vancouver Sun game, 7-3, to Bill Karjala of Nanaimo.

City Cagers Top Alberni

Victoria won the Vancouver Island women's senior "B" basketball championship last night with a 47-37 win over a scrappy Alberni squad in the final game of the two-game, total-point series played at Victoria High School.

Carrying a 26-point lead into last night's game, the "B's" were outscored in the first half, 16-20, but put on the pressure in the second session to rack up a 93-57 total-point win.

High scorer for the "B's" was Chris Boyd with 13 points, followed by Bev Walls, who dropped in 12.

Scorers follow:

Victoria—Boyd 13, Lajeunesse 2, Wood 4, Peterson 3, Colquhoun 6, Walls 12, Lewis 4, Donaldson 4. Total 47.
Alberni—Johnstone 11, Gaillford 7, Reider 2, Oavin 9, Kemas 2, Williamson 6. Total 37.

Alberni Leads Hoop Playoffs

VANCOUVER (CP)—Alberni Athletics took a 2-1 lead in the best-of-seven B.C. senior A basketball finals here Thursday night when they defeated Vancouver C-Fun 67-58.

The Athletics, using five men most of the way, won the game in the third quarter when they broke to a 45-40 lead. C-Fun never threatened as Alberni stretched its lead to 51-40 early in the fourth quarter.

Giants Take New Setback As Gomez Fails to Report

New York Giants, who have had nothing but trouble since they opened spring training, ran into another stumbling block yesterday when Ruben Gomez, potentially their No. 2 pitcher, failed to report.

It was another in a series of blows that have crippled the Giants even before the National League has started. They lost three players, including first baseman Bill White, to the army, and still have to find a catcher to replace Bill Sarni, who suffered a heart attack and will never play baseball again.

The Giants made it plain yesterday that they are tired of Gomez' annual game of hide-and-seek and they threatened to institute a scale of fines for every day he is absent. There was also speculation that he would be traded to the Cincinnati Redlegs.

Makes Comfortable Living . . . . . . With Facts and Figures

Fleischer Without Peer as Boxing Custodian

By WHITNEY MARTIN

NEW YORK (AP)—Nat Fleischer has been making a comfortable living out of boxing practically all his life—without taking a punch.

As unofficial historian, compiler of facts, figures and anecdotes, prolific writer and general all-around custodian of the ring game, he is without peer.

All of which is a prelude to introducing the 16th edition of his Ring Record Book and Boxing Encyclopedia.

In addition to the records of all current fighters, past champions and near champions and the history of the various divisions, it also contains his own all-time rankings. He rates Rocky Marciano 10th on his list of heavyweights; Ray Robinson fifth among the welterweights, and Willie Pep seventh in the featherweight class.

Here are just a few tidbits of information gleaned while thumbing through the volume willy-nilly.

Jack Dempsey received a record fee of $5,000 plus $3,000 expenses for refereeing a middleweight title bout in Manila in 1939. Jack Britton and Kid Lewis fought each other 20 times with only one kayo, and a fellow named Hal Bagwell had 180 consecutive fights without a defeat.

Al Couture knocked out Ralph Walton in 10½ seconds of the first round at Lewiston, Me., in 1946, and the largest crowd ever to see a show was in Milwaukee on Aug. 18, 1941, when 135,132 spectators saw Tony Zale knock out Billy Pryor.

Joe Louis was knocked down 10 times during his career and Willie Pep, in addition to being the youngest titleholder in 40 years, broke the records record for a featherweight indoors, never lost a decision, never fought a draw, and won the title 10 months after his first main event.

Georges Carpentier was the only man to campaign in all eight divisions, and Ted Kid Lewis fought in six classes from featherweight up. Battling Levinsky fought three main events at different locations, the same day, a morning 10-rounder in Brooklyn, an afternoon 10-rounder in Manhattan, and an evening 12-rounder in Waterbury, Conn.

Tiremen, Meteors Begin Title Bids

BILL BAWFORD
... plays tonight

Dickinson & Dunn begins its attempt to add the B.C. coast championship to an already-impressive record tonight when it takes on Vancouver Pilseners at Victoria High School in the first game of their two-game, total-point senior "B" men's basketball final.

The Tiremen, beaten only once during the regular season, have won the city senior "B" title for the past two years, and added the Vancouver Island championship two weeks ago by trouncing the Alberni Athletic "B" team. Winner of the Tiremen-Pilsener series will meet the Interior champions in the B.C. final.

METEORS MEET UBC

Another Victoria team also starts an important series tonight. Victoria Meteors open a two-game, total-point series with UBC Thunderettes for the provincial junior women's championship at the Vic High gym at 7, prior to the senior "B" contest.

Second games in both series will be played at Victoria High Saturday night.

Coach Ralph Baker of the Tiremen is expected to stick with his regular lineup tonight. George Denison, Johnny Clark, Norm Baker, Gordie Jones, Bill Bamford, Al Davies, Vince Clarkson, Howie Toohy, Barry Jackson and Garry Gilbert are all expected to see action. Game time is 8 p.m.

Meanwhile, reports indicate that Victoria may see a return of inter-city basketball next season. Plans call for the Tiremen, strengthened by the addition of several of the top members of Victoria College Vikings, to form a senior "A" club next year.

The proposed league would have two Vancouver teams, one from Port Alberni, Bellingham and Victoria. University of British Columbia, which is not expected to re-enter the Evergreen Conference next year, may also join the new circuit.

City Pee Wees Lose Coast Hockey Final

Vancouver Kerrisdales defeated Victoria all-stars, 9-7, at Memorial Arena yesterday to win the coast peewee hockey championship, 13-11, in the two-game, total-goal series. The clubs had played to a 4-4 draw in the opening game Wednesday night.

Paul Bion turned in a spark ling five-goal performance for Victoria yesterday, but Kerris dales had a pair of high scorers in Bruce Tinsley, who scored four goals, and Elgin McCann, who picked up three.

Kerrisdale jumped into a 4-1 lead in the first period, and were ahead, 7-5, at the end of the second. Then, with his team playing a man short, Bion broke loose for two quick goals to tie the score late in the game.

However, McCann scored his third goal to make it 8-7, and Earl Paul added an insurance marker, his second goal of the night, seconds before the final whistle.

Rocks Again on Prowl; Sign Two Import Stars

Victoria Shamrocks, pulling all stops in their efforts to keep the Mann Cup in Western Canada and bring the city its second Canadian lacrosse championship in three years, announced yesterday that they have obtained Don Gear, rated one of Ontario's outstanding players.

Shamrock coach Whitey Severson said last night that Gear, a 170-pounder who can play any of the forward positions, had agreed to join the Irish for the 1957 Inter-City Lacrosse League season.

It was the second important player acquisition in less than 24 hours and another big step in the Rocks' rebuilding plans. The Victoria club, which finished in third place last season after sweeping Dominion honors in 1955, were cheered earlier yesterday when popular Bob Dobbie announced he was returning to Victoria and would line up with the Rocks.

GOOD NUCLEUS

Shamrocks have a good nucleus for the summer campaign. In addition to most of the members of last season's club who will be returning, the Rocks have acquired colorful Jack Bionda, the league's top scorer in 1955, and Don Sherry, who was the second-highest scorer in the loop last season as a member of the Canadian champion Nanaimo Timbermen.

Severson, who said that two or three player deals are still brewing, was high on the 24-year-old Gear, who is a cousin of Dobbie and who will leave Ontario early in April with his wife.

Gear, who made the jump from juvenile to senior ranks in one season, appears at his best at a centre position and Severson plans to use him at the pivot spot because of his outstanding playmaking ability.

FIVE RECORD

Gear scored 36 goals and added 60 assists with Fergus Thistles in 1952, his first year in senior lacrosse, and finished third in the Ontario League scoring race. Fergus dropped to senior "B" competition the following year and Gear sparked the club to the Eastern Canada championship, led the league and scoring and was selected to the all-star team.

He was tied for the scoring lead in the 1954 season when injuries sidelined him for the rest of the campaign but picked up 63 points the following year as Fergus returned to senior competition. The Thistles folded after playing only eight games in the 1956 season.

Dobbie needs no introduction to Victoria fans. Always dangerous on offence, Dobbie is a rugged checker and was one of the sparks in Victoria's Mann Cup victory, scoring 15 points in the five-game final against Peterborough.

Weekend Soccer

Clubmen Play Punjab For Cup Soccer Berth

Tillicums and Punjab United of the Victoria and District Football League clash at Royal Athletic Park Saturday at 2 p.m. with the winner advancing to the semi-finals of the Vancouver Island Province Cup competition.

Two district league clubs have already reached the semi-finals. Gorge Hotel blanked Butler Brothers, 2-1, and Esquimalt downed Heaneys, 2-1, last weekend. Final match of the first round will be between Canadian Scottish and Brodie's Bakery.

Two league matches will be played Sunday afternoon. Butler Brothers, in a four-way tie with Gorge Hotel, Brodie's Bakery and Tillicums for first place, meet Esquimalt at Central Park, while the Gorgemen play Canadian Scottish at Heywood Avenue Park.

Both games start at 2 p.m.

Hoop Tonight At Brentwood

Brentwood meets Tsolum High School in the first game of a two-game, total-point series for the juvenile girls' Vancouver Island basketball championship at the Brentwood community centre tonight at 8:30.

First game of the three-game card will start at 7:30 with Brentwood facing Cordova Bay in a pre-midget boys' contest. Arrow Furniture plays Brentwood at 9:30 in a senior "C" men's game.

Civil Service Bonspiel Draw

Draw and starting times for Saturday's play in the Civil Service bonspiel at the Victoria Curling Club follows:

Birmingham Beats Notts

Birmingham City reached the semi-finals of the English Football Association Cup competition yesterday by blanking Nottingham Forest, the last second division club in the running, on a first-half goal.

Birmingham plays Manchester United in the semis at Hillsborough, Sheffield, March 23.

In other games yesterday, Newport County defeated Bournemouth, 5-3, in a third-division southern match, and Derry City blanked Coleraine, 2-0, in Irish League play.

FAMED ARTIST

McColl, Scroggs Face Rugged Chore Sunday

Jim Robertson of Colwood, who has played steady golf over the first two rounds, will carry a four-stroke lead into the third and final round of the monthly medal series Sunday morning at the Uplands Golf Club.

The smooth-swinging Colwood veteran leads club-mate Bill McColl, winner of the fall competition, and Frank Scroggs by four strokes. Scroggs will have the advantage of playing over his home course.

Fourth in the competition but considered out of the running is Laurie Carroll, assistant professional at the Victoria Golf Club, who trails Robertson by six strokes.

Draw and starting times:

9:30—J. Robertson, B. Morrison, V. Painter, A. Donaldson.

9:38—W. McColl, L. Carroll, L. Kerr, B. Wonga.

9:46—F. Scroggs, T. A. Harris, G. Pellow, A. Another.

9:54—R. Donaldson, J. Evans, J. Carline, J. H. Clark.

10:02—Dr. B. Ross, D. Straith, B. Rogers, C. McBeth.

10:10—B. Chappell, A. MacLeod, J. McColl, D. Munroe.

Post entries will be accepted.

Winning Contract

By HOWARD SCHENKEN and RICHARD L. FREY

Vul: Both	NORTH ♠ 7
Score: N-S=60	♡ J 8 7 5 4 3 2
	◇ 8 4 2 ♣ 5 2
WEST ♠ 6 3 2 ♡ — ◇ Q J 10 7 6 ♣ K 9 7 4 3		EAST ♠ Q J 10 8 ♡ A 10 ◇ K 9 5 3 ♣ J 10 8
	SOUTH (D) ♠ A K 9 5 4 ♡ K Q 9 6 ◇ A ♣ A Q 6

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
2 ♠	All Pass

Opening lead: ♢ Q

You are permitted to shade an opening two-bid, when your side is in score, for the good reason that if partner has a bust it will not be necessary to get to a full game contract. But it is also true that you cannot make a stronger bid even if you have an ice-cold slam in your hand and you need only to know which of your suits partner prefers. Therefore, a forcing two-bid remains forcing in this case for only one round—even if it is enough to convert your part-score into a game.

No one will say that North's hand is robust. You can understand that he feared that if he bid anything the final contract would be three spades. But a convention is a convention. North should have bid out of respect to future partnership confidence, as well as in the hope that a better contract might be reached.

South won the opening diamond lead. If he led trumps before forcing out the heart ace, the opponents could take two high trumps, force declarer to use his last trump on a diamond and then, when they got in with the heart ace, might be able to cash enough diamonds to defeat him. Declarer planned to force out the heart ace while dummy still had a trump. Then, if diamonds were continued he would discard two clubs and dummy's trump would compel the defenders to shift.

However, when South led the king of hearts, West trumped it. This forced declarer to change his plan. He trumped the diamond continuation and led another heart. He laid off the third diamond, discarding a club. East then led a club through and the loss of the finesse doomed South's contract.

If North had done his duty, bidding two no-trump, South would bid three hearts. Now North might even have got up courage to raise the hearts, in which case South could bid the laydown slam.

WINNING POINTS—The less you like partner's opening bid, the more important it is to keep the bidding open for one round, even if the opening bid is enough for game.

Gold Rush Journey May Be Repeated

VANCOUVER (CP)—Tourists to British Columbia during the 1958 centennial celebrations may be able to ride up the Fraser River on the Klondike, an old sternwheeler.

W. J. McGuigan says he has secured an option to purchase the famed old ship, now anchored at Whitehorse, YT.

"Just think of the interest the Klondike would create next year by running excursion trips for visitors up the Fraser to Fort Langley and Hope," Mr. McGuigan says. "Similar ships carried thousands of gold seekers during the Cariboo gold rush days.

NO. 73—NINETY-NINTH YEAR . VICTORIA, BRITISH COLUMBIA, FRIDAY, MARCH 8, 1957 . SECOND NEWS SECTION

'Restore Historic Fort' Old Soldiers Demand

Rodd Hill Renovation Urged for Centenary

Plans for restoration of an historic site in the Greater Victoria area as a centennial year project were given a shot in the arm last night by a group of former 5th Regiment officers.

The proposal laid before the Greater Victoria Centennial Committee called for complete renovation of the Barrie site of old Fort Rodd Hill at the western entrance to Esquimalt Harbor.

It was suggested the site could include military and maritime museums and public picnic grounds as well as the 100 year old bastion which was the first home of the 5th, formed from a civilian volunteer garrison at that time.

Enthusiasm to "thoroughly investigate" this suggestion bubbled through the committee last night and on representative G. K. Simmons' resolution, members agreed to invite mayor, reeves and councillors with themselves to make an inspection tour of the site March 16.

The proposal supplemented with maps and photographs was presented by Col. M. A. Kent, commanding officer of the 5th who joined the regiment in 1909 and Capt. G. C. D'Arcy, another former member of the traditional Victoria garrison.

Capt. D'Arcy said only a "start" was necessary in the renovation program. It was hoped the historic sites branch of the department of northern affairs would take over from there with maintenance and costs by turning the site into a national monument.

Many Still Standing

"Many of the buildings of the fort are still standing," Capt. D'Arcy said. "The only restoration necessary on the fort itself would be for armor and equipment."

The old fort, first garrisoned under the sponsorship of the Hudson's Bay Company, was actually a predecessor to Fort Langley which is being restored "from scratch" as a centennial project in the Fraser Valley.

Big point in the site's favor is that it is presently national defence department property which need not be purchased for such a purpose, Capt. D'Arcy said.

Just off the fort site is Fisgard Light, "the oldest lighthouse on the whole Pacific coast," the retired officer said. He suggested that it, too, be renovated.

Spearheading the campaign for the fort project is a group of civic dignitaries and army and navy officers who call themselves the "Provincial Committee for the Restoration of Fort Rodd Hill."

Letters have been sent by the committee to Maj.-Gen. Pearkes, VC, MP, and Dr. F. T. Fairey, MP. Capt. D'Arcy told the centennial group, and answers have been received indicating that proper government departments have been informed.

The suggestion is similar to the proposed Fort Victoria development somewhere up the Gorge which would have required the purchase of considerable property making it prohibitive on the basis of most committee members.

City May Sell Land Cheaply

Finance committee of city council looked with favor yesterday on giving the United Church housing committee a lower than market price on five acres on Harriet Road for a cottage-type housing development for elderly persons.

The committee also recommended the sale of two Styles Street lots to the Victoria Senior Citizens Housing Society for $1,500 subject to approval of rezoning from single family to apartment classification.

Tax Groans 'Irrational' Says Black

Public outcry against municipal taxes is "entirely irrational," Municipal Affairs Minister Wesley Black told the legislature yesterday.

Admitting that his comments "may not necessarily be the most popular statements I could make," the minister said that it was unfortunate that "too many citizens seem to forget that in effect they are purchasing through their taxes certain conveniences . . . I should say even necessities on a community basis which they could not buy individually."

Since so many citizens choose urban life, he said, "we cannot object to or try to disregard the costs . . . there is little cause for a complaint."

Municipal tax costs to the average home owner is equal to one or two packets of cigarets a day, he said.

"When you think of the essentials which you get for this sum I suggest this is one of the best bargains we receive for our money."

Plays Start Run Tonight

Peninsula Players will present three plays. The Fish, The Price of Coal and The Patients of Valerie Lane, in North Saanich High School at 8:15 tonight and tomorrow.

One play will be chosen as the group's entry in the South-ern Vancouver Island drama festival here April 8 to 13.

Meantime, bands of Oak Bay Junior High and Mount View High schools give a concert in the Oak Bay school at 8 p.m. today with proceeds going to purchase of band equipment and uniforms.

Worth Losing Some Sleep For

Little Caroline Stone, three-year-old daughter of Staff Sergeant and Mrs. Joseph Stone, Royal Roads, stayed up long past bedtime last night but her lost sleep was worth it for she met Marian Anderson. The world-famed contralto arrived from Seattle to spend a few days writing letters before her concert in the Royal Theatre Monday evening. (Colonist photo by Art Harris.)

New deputy police chief in Saanich is Jack Hamilton.

Now a sergeant, Mr. Hamilton fills the post vacated by Bert Pearson who was appointed chief late last year succeeding Josiah Bull on his retirement.

Negro Singer Cuts Barriers

By BRUCE LOWTHER

As the world becomes smaller, the minds of its peoples become larger.

Contralto Marian Anderson, who sings at the Royal Theatre Monday, says that is the main reason there are whiter opportunities for Negroes in the entertainment business now than there were a generation ago.

In an interview at the Empress Hotel Miss Anderson explained that her concert will include a group of short German songs, some modern works, arias by Saint-Saens, four Finnish [illegible] and four Negro spirituals.

While the field of serious music is generally open to "our group," said Miss Anderson, problems remain in the theatre.

She insists that "my people are not asking for any favors, we would like to do the same kind of things all others do.

'You're Political Psychopaths'

Martin Gives Bitter Pills

Opposition members were forced to swallow the "medicine" of criticism from Health Minister Eric Martin yesterday.

We deplore your suicidal tendencies," the minister told the opposition ranks. "You are political incorrigibles. You are political psychopaths. You are all in the same category—incorrigible."

But despite the [illegible] Mr. Martin said the government had increased the size of the [illegible] was still [illegible] retirement level of 20 years ago.

How would you have her extend the means for an improvement in it?" asked Opposition Leader Robert Strachan.

We wouldn't have had a deficit," retorted Mr. Martin.

Hospital employees wages in British Columbia are paid the highest wages by far than in any other province in Canada, Mr. Martin continued.

"He says that hospital employees in BC are underpaid is a great description of the truth," he said. "They are well paid.

The minister said people had compared hospital wages with those enjoyed by "peak basic industries" but that it was overlooked that those in the basic industries may not enjoy steady work.

"Hospital employees wages are steady year in and year out," he said.

Mr. Martin said there was no such thing as a freeze order.

We have received a firm hint that provincial contributions to frozen hospital costs be cut. This is proved by the $500,000 increase over the past five years.

'PROGRESSIVE STEPS'

B.C.'s Salk vaccine program is the most progressive step yet taken" in the fight against polio, Mr. Martin said.

[illegible] the government has made [illegible] available to the people without charge and to [illegible] as supplies [illegible] be allowed.

But he said it is not [illegible] to say whether the [illegible] was the reason that polio in 1956 had been slashed last year.

No Licences For Firearms, Owners Pay

Frederick Gunter of Vancouver and Peter Eraser, 1424 Blanshard, were each fined $10 and $3 costs in Colwood court yesterday for having firearms without licences.

Lack of a fishing licence cost Gus Mueller, 401 Bay, a like amount in the same court.

Dietrich Walter Routenberg, Courtenay, was fined $10 and $3 costs at Colwood for having a revolver in a vehicle without a permit. The weapon was confiscated.

Talking Politics

'I Expect Total Victory'

By PETER BRUTON

[illegible] Diefenbaker is a 61 [illegible] from Prince Albert [illegible]. He is also leader of her majesty's loyal opposition in the House of Commons as party chieftain of the Progressive Conservatives.

Mr. Diefenbaker has a considerable sense of humor. He is also a dead ringer for Attorney-General Robert Bonner, not so much for looks (unlike Mr. Bonner he has thick wavy hair) but due to his legal background.

To put it bluntly both men can take several hundred words to something which adds up to nothing. Such was the case at Mr. Diefenbaker's press conference yesterday.

EXPECTS VICTORY

What's the minimum number of seats do you hope to win in the next federal election?" he was asked.

"I do not propose to engage in that type of prophecy at this time," Mr. Diefenbaker replied. "I'm not aiming for an increased majority, for a total victory is naturally my expectation."

But even as the [illegible] back from the legislative buildings across the Empress Hotel, protest [illegible] and for all there's a slight [illegible] Victoria pockets and Ottawa's [illegible].

Mr. Diefenbaker is shrewd, witty, and a master politician.

Someone tried to put him on the spot and failed.

"Would be an awfully good [illegible]" Mr. Diefenbaker told the reporter. "But of course I'd be an equally good witness."

QUESTION TURNED

Someone else asked whether the PC leader thought the Victoria seat at present held by Dr. F. T. Fairey, if the Liberals would fail to the Conservatives in the next election.

"Are you going to be of assistance [illegible] Mr. Diefenbaker was [illegible] point to [illegible] east.

"If (Social Credit) certainly didn't make any advances in the Saskatchewan provincial election and there is no indication it has any following in Manitoba and Eastern Canada," he said.

Was there any chance that Social Credit and the PCs might merge at some future date?

I haven't heard that," Mr. Diefenbaker chortled.

HEALTH SCHEME

[illegible] Mr. Diefenbaker [illegible] that [illegible] one [illegible] the [illegible] said that any [illegible] into a national [illegible] federal government should be [illegible] to start without having [illegible] for the acceptance of other provinces.

Mr. Diefenbaker said he had "no decided opinions" as to the value of the proposed Wenner-Gren development in B.C.'s northland but that he had, no objection to foreign investment as long as the companies were under Canadian control.

It was also [illegible] that Eric Cocke [illegible] future [illegible] Association [illegible].

Serve Smoked Fish By Way of Change

During this season of Lent there will be a great deal of fish served in many a home as well as frequently be featuring attractive change do you ever do anything about smoked fish? There's nothing new about it, of course, because years before white man ever set foot on this continent the Indians smoked and dried fish for winter consumption. Full processing methods have changed vastly since then but many people still enjoy smoked fish once in a while, especially during the winter months. Instead of the dried, hard-cured product, we now have moist, mild-cured fish with a subtle, smoky tang.

I recently gleaned this information from Canada's department of fisheries and believe it will interest you as much as it does me. Apparently in modern smoking procedure, fish are dipped in brine exposed in wood smoke under controlled temperature for a number of hours and then they are either refrigerated, frozen or canned. This mild-curing enhances the natural flavor and the brining and smoking processes temporarily halt the growth of spoilage organisms. Fish most commonly smoked in this country are: Atlantic cod, black, Alaska and [illegible] haddock, chum, haddock, herring [illegible] whitefish. Some of these are also smoked in Canada, such as smoked salmon, smoked sturgeon and smoked whitefish are often served cold, especially for hors d'oeuvres without any additional cooking.

But as a very general rule I think you'll find poaching, steaming [illegible] are the best methods to use. Our first recipe is very popular for a leisurely weekend breakfast or brunch, though equally suitable for a light evening meal. Those who don't need the whole fish can buy just a thick slice but the method is the same.

FINNAN HADDIE

Choose a thick fish or, as I repeat, a thick slice. Put it in a pan of cold water, flesh side down. Bring very slowly to a simmering point and simmer gently about 15 minutes. Drain throughly. Method 1. Lay it in a baking pan, brush with butter or margarine, sprinkle with lemon juice and bake at 325 degrees till fish will flake when tested with a fork. Garnish with slices of lemon. Method 2. If you are not using the oven for anything else, cook it very slowly on top of the stove in just enough milk to cover—better still, use cream if you can afford it. The milk takes on a delicious fish flavor. You baste frequently. Garnish with lots of chopped parsley. Either method makes a very tasty dish.

[illegible] easily be had in quantity

KEDGEREE

5 servings

Two cups [illegible] spoon cream sauce, 2 cups cooked smoked fish flaked, 2 hard cooked eggs, chopped, [illegible] green pepper, 2 tablespoons chopped parsley. Either milk or evaporated milk may be used in the cream sauce. Then combine fish, eggs, green pepper and parsley and the two mixtures in alternate layers in a greased casserole. Pour the milk over all. Dot with buttered breadcrumbs and bake in a moderate oven about 30 minutes. If preferred, omit the breadcrumbs and put the whole thing into a saucepan and gently heat. Kedgeree is served on individual plates on hot buttered toast. If the mixture seems too stiff just add a little more milk.

The other day I mentioned the home-made method of making cottage cheese. As a result several readers asked what to do if they had no sour milk. Very simple, my dears. Just add lemon juice to fresh milk in the proportion of about 2 teaspoons lemon juice to each cup of milk or cream. Stir it in slowly and gradually until you get the desired result.

If funds are rather low and you're thinking of having a pot roast for this weekend be sure and read this column tomorrow as I have the most wonderful, novel way of cooking it.

Bringing Up Baby

HINTS COLLECTED BY Mrs. Ella Horton, MOTHER OF 11

I'm not [illegible] you'll find most [illegible] agree that it's more important for a baby to learn to like to eat than how much he eats. After all, adults' appetites vary from meal to meal, so why not babies'? Forcing never made a baby a bigger or a better eater and when mealtime is made a happy event, instead of an unpleasant duty, baby is more apt to approach his food with relish.

New BOBBI

PIN CURL PERMANENT

WITH

Casual Pin Curlers

Gives a softer, smoother wave

Casual Pin Curlers are 7 ways better

1. Easier to use than metal pins.
2. Prettier to wear . . . shell pink plastic.
3. Can't rust . . . can't discolor your hair.
4. Slide right . . . hold tight.
5. Just can't slip.
6. Can't leave unsightly crimp marks.
7. Curved . . . shaped to your head for comfort.

Bobbi's so easy—you can do it yourself!

Bobbi's the easiest of permanents! If you can make a simple pin curl, you can give yourself a Bobbi. Just Pin Curlers and wonderful new Bobbi lotion . . . that's all you need. There's no separate neutralizer! No tiresome re-setting! Your curls brush out soft and natural right from the very start.

Only Bobbi Gives You Everything You Need for a Complete Permanent - Pins and Neckline Curlers Included

They choose

TV TALK

By Bruce Lowther

As of the first of this year, 257 of the thousands of U.S. television stations were equipped for color and well over half of the number was from NBC affiliated stations.

NBC says that the total of its color stations was 136 and by the end of this year, the figure will be 153. That will be an increase of almost 50 per cent in two years.

This area is fortunate in that it has the KOMO-TV one of only 80 stations which can originate color for all shows.

"Tranquilizers?"

About a decade ago, this writer greatly enjoyed "The Clock," a touching movie about a wartime romance in which Judy Garland displayed dramatic talents for the first time.

"The Clock" makes its TV debut on channel 5 tonight and should be seen — although lately many of these old favorites have seemed pretty awful, indeed. Other Viewing highlights are the movie "How Green Was My Valley," and guest appearances by Ernest Borgnine and Janet Leigh.

TV BITS: Effective tonight, Person To Person will be off the air every second week. Channel 11 hasn't found a local sponsor to fill the hole left by national buyer Time Life Inc. . . . Speaking of Time Life, it was suggested that the magazine Life and the Rockefellers call their new New York building Rockefeller Tower. We laughed down. Henry Luce doesn't like rock 'n' roll . . . Unless Elvis and Helena Guide go on forever, Do You Trust Your Wife? will be a re-cord soon. Replacement rumored to be Assignment Foreign Legion with Merle Oberon.

Republic Pictures has given an idea of TV's effect on movie grosses. Profits dropped last year to $700,000 from $9,200,000 even though operating costs were cut by $2,000,000. Republic will only make movies designed to use in double features. . . . Good news for newsmen comes from San Francisco. The old East Theatre made into a TV station in 1953 will become a theatre again after the TV operation went broke . . . Poor ratings have forced producers of Meg of Annapolis to shift plot emphasis from human interest to action adventure.

Today's Best

7:30 Frontier replaces Person To Person every second week (Channel 11).

8:30 Ernest Borgnine in "Black Creek Encounter" on Zane Grey Theatre (channel 11).

9:00 Grandpa sidne McCulley talks to painter Arthur Lismer, actress Kate Reid (channels 2 and 6).

9:30 Janet Leigh in "Carriage From Britain" on Schlitz Playhouse (channel 11).

Sport Specials

6:30 This Week in Sports (channel 2).

7:00 Welterweights Sugar Hart and Walt Byars (channel 1).

7:30 Bellingham vs. Anacortes high school basketball. It's very rare to have such a "live" show on (channel 12).

9:30 Women's wrestling (channel 13).

Movie Lineup

10:00 "The Gentleman Misbehaves," channel 5.

12:00 "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," channel 4. Could be good.

12:30 "Alias Mr. Twilight," channel 5.

1:30 "Sabre Jet," channel 12, Robert Stack.

2:00 "Keep Rollin'," channel 11, Gene Autry.

2:05 "Hotel Reserve," channel 13, James Mason.

2:15 "Lydia," channel 2, Merle Oberon, Joseph Cotten.

2:20 "How Green Was My Valley," channel 6, Maureen O'Hara, Walter Pidgeon, Barry Fitzgerald. Very good.

3:00 "Miranda," channel 5, Glynis Johns.

3:40 "Caribou Trail," channel 4, Randolph Scott, Gabby Hayes.

3:50 "Enchanted Forest," channel 12.

7:30—"Seven Days Ashore," channel 13. Again at 1 a.m.

10:00—"Sundown," channel 6, Gene Tierney, George Sanders.

10:05 "Rocket Man," channel 11, Larry Parks.

10:10 "Isle of the Dead," channel 12, Boris Karloff.

10:20 "Who Killed Doc Robbin?" channel 1.

10:35 "Manpower," channel 12, Edward G. Robinson, Marlene Dietrich, George Raft, Eve Arden. Could be good.

10:45 "The Clock," channel 5, Judy Garland, Robert Walker, Keenan Wynn. Recommended.

11:15 "Since You Went Away," channel 2, part one. Jennifer Jones, Claudette Colbert, Joseph Cotten, Shirley Temple. Good. Part two at 11:15 p.m. Sunday.

Nuclear Test Curb Asked

LONDON (Reuters) — The Times has called on the government to seek restrictions on nuclear weapons tests once Britain has exploded its own H-bomb in Pacific tests. The newspaper says: "Once the British government have had their bangs — proof that the machines work — they must go all out to persuade the main powers to ration the number of these fearful tests."

Combined Attack On Budworm Slated This Year

The serious Island budworm infestation will undergo an "all-out attack" this year by industry and provincial and federal authorities, says Lands and Forests Minister Ray Williston.

A bad forest fire season was the second of three main harmful effects suffered by B.C.'s forest industry during 1956, he said.

The other was the poor seedling planting conditions throughout the province.

Mr. Williston, in a report to the legislature on operation of his department, added "the highlight in the years that come ahead" of the forest industry will be a steady move toward joint ventures for utilization of waste products where a single plant could not install facilities.

"We have passed the day when we can waste anything" in the forest industry and still be competitive," he said.

At the same time, an all-time high production of 1,029,000,000 cubic feet was reached, he said.

Mr. Williston said "a bad fire season saw 2,810 fires burn 469,648 acres and cost $102,116 to fight. Forest cover burned was valued at $1,058,469.

Attorney-General Robert Bonner should do away with all stipendiary magistrates in B.C., George Gregory, Liberal member for Victoria, told the legislature Wednesday.

Although he was sure that every such magistrate serving a smaller areas did his job as best he could, Mr. Gregory said, it was a fact they were paid on the basis of convictions . . . out of court costs.

"It is not fair to put temptation in a man's way," he said.

The temptation would be there in two ways—convictions for pay or "a leaning over backwards" to avoid any such consideration, Mr. Gregory said.

Canada's second out-patient clinic for mental patients officially went into operation at Burnaby yesterday.

It is expected the centre will greatly reduce the number of admissions to Crease clinic at Essondale and will be used for those patients who need mental treatment but are not sufficiently ill to be admitted to a mental hospital.

Officials said the clinic has been operating on a trial basis for the past two or three weeks. The only other clinic of its type is in Montreal.

The provincial government was guilty of "a breach of faith" with sportsmen in not making a specific allocation for game conservation, Mrs. Lois Haggen said Wednesday in the legislative budget debate.

The CCF member for Grand Forks-Greenwood was "really shocked" to find in the estimates that a $297,000 game conservation fund had been placed in the estimates under the general fund of the game branch's administrative division. She said it had "come into being through agreement of the sportsmen to pay more for their licences in order to get greater conservation service."

"I believe that this is a breach of faith with the sportsmen—that this money could be, and should be used for the purpose for which it was acquired," Mrs. Haggen said.

Already protests are coming in.

Mrs. Hagen, one of two women members of the legislature and the only one on the opposition side, also took up where the late veteran CCF member Ernest Winch had to leave off in a campaign for more humane slaughter.

". . . there is no question as to whether barbarous methods of slaughter are being carried out in our packing houses . . . present methods used in this province should no longer be tolerated," she said.

Pro-West Party Thailand Victor

BANGKOK, Thailand (Reuters) — Final results in Thailand's first general election Feb. 26 showed Thursday that the pro-Western government won a small but absolute majority in the national assembly. Prime Minister Feld Marshal Pibul Songgram's party won 85 of the 160 seats contested. The government nominates a further 160 seats in the assembly.

No Films In Awards For Films

OTTAWA (BUP) — The management committee of the 9th annual films awards has announced that the awards will feature people, projects and pictures but not films.

The competition among films has been suspended for one year to make awards for distinguished contributions to people or organizations, current projects and outstanding pictures, all of which have contributed to Canadian film making.

Israelis Destroy Forts Prior to Handing Over

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — Israeli troops blew up Egyptian military works at the mouth of the Gulf of Aqaba Thursday in preparation for withdrawal today. Other Israeli forces completed their exit from the Gaza Strip and handed United Nations forces the burden of administering that hotly disputed area.

The Israelis did not want the Egyptians to find the fortifications intact in case United Nations occupation proves to be only temporary. Similar destruction of roads and installations was carried out by the Israelis in their long retreat out of the Sinai Desert a few weeks ago.

Tanks, guns and vehicles—much of it captured Egyptian equipment—already had been loaded aboard ships, and lighter material was flown out by planes.

U.N. FLAG READY

Finnish units of the United Nations Emergency Force were ready to raise the UN flag, overlooking the narrow coral - dotted strait as soon as the Israelis pull out.

Israel's withdrawal from the 26-by-six-mile Gaza strip on the Mediterranean coast after 325 days of occupation was swiftly completed before dawn, except for a tiny working party which did not leave until afternoon.

The departure of the victors in the October - November invasion against Egypt was without incident except for a few unexplained gunshots.

The 300,000 residents, including some 200,000 Israeli - hating Arab refugees from Palestine, were under curfew. Only a handful defied the orders to stay indoors and greeted the changeover with shouts of "long live Nasser, long live Nehru, long live Arab unity, down with the imperialists."

Wilson-Smith Here Monday

Director of infantry for the Canadian Army, Col. N. G. Wilson-Smith, Ottawa, will come to Victoria Monday to visit Second Battalion Queen's Own Rifles of Canada at Gordon Head Camp, and four Esquimalt Garrison.

Due here on the same day are Major G. G. Brown and Major H. D. Robertson, staff officers at headquarters, First Canadian Infantry Brigade, who will discuss summer training slated for Camp Wainwright with regular army officers here.

Speaker Praises School Tax Aid

George Curran, president of the Christopher Speakers Club of Victoria, Wednesday night expressed pleasure with the proposed new Municipal Act, which will free British Columbia private and parochial schools from paying taxes.

"I can see this is very beneficial and that it brings the rest of the province in line with Vancouver, where they have had tax-free private and parochial schools for 20 years or more," he said.

Over-All Majority

De Valera In With 78 Seats

DUBLIN (Reuters) — Voters in the Republic of Ireland Thursday chose veteran revolutionary statesman Eamon de Valera to lead them out of their economic woes and to deal with violent campaigns against the partition of the Emerald Isle.

The 74-year-old politician, partially blind, led his Fianna Fail party to victory in the country's fifth general election in 13 years, held Tuesday.

Complete returns gave Fianna Fail 78 seats in the 147-seat Dail (parliament). Outgoing prime minister John Costello's Fine Gael party won 40 seats, Labor 12, Independents 9, Sinn Fein 4, Farmers 3 and Republicans 1.

Fianna Fail, whose policy is a blend of liberalism and conservatism, thus gained a majority over the combined total of all other parties, ousting Costello's shaky coalition of Fine Gael, Labor, Farmers and Republicans.

BIG SURPRISE

The big surprise was the election of four Sinn Fein candidates, members of an extreme nationalist group sympathizing with recent armed raids by the outlawed Irish Republican Army into the six countries of Northern Ireland.

It is the only party which condones violence as a method of uniting north and south. Political experts had forecast none of the 19 Sinn Fein candidates — one of them now in prison—would be elected.

Former external affairs minister Sean McBride lost his seat. McBride's small Republican party forced the general election by withdrawing its support of Costello's coalition because of dissatisfaction with the government's economic policy.

De Valera will be supported by some of the independents and his control of the Dail will be further strengthened by the declared refusal of the Sinn Feiners to take their seats—as a sign of protest against the partition of Ireland.

Flotilla Back

RCN, U.S. Navy 'Mesh Smoothly'

Smooth way the Canadian and U.S. navies can work together was praised yesterday on the return of three ships of the Second Canadian Escort Squadron from six weeks of exercises in California waters.

Capt. Paul D. Taylor, senior officer of the squadron, said the two navies "mesh well together and work very smoothly in squadron operations."

The destroyers Crescent, Cayuga and Athabaskan logged nearly 4,000 miles on their voyage and, in co-operation with ships of the U.S. Navy, carried out exercises in advanced anti-submarine warfare. They had two brief port calls at San Diego and San Francisco. HMCS Sioux, which sailed with the squadron, was detached to return Feb. 7 for regular refit.

Capt. Taylor will relinquish command of HMCS Crescent and leadership of the squadron in a few days to take a new post in England. He will be succeeded by Capt. Michael G. Stirling of Kelowna, until recently commanding officer of HMCS Cornwallis, training base near Digby, N.S.

Do Gasoline Fumes Cause Lung Cancer?

VANCOUVER (CP)—Representatives of seven railway unions have asked the provincial government to institute a research program to determine whether oil and gasoline fumes are a cause of lung cancer.

Their brief states: "There is evidence that the exhaust fumes from the diesel locomotive is causing lung cancer."

Railwaymen argued that the fight against the legislation for themselves alone. They said there is evidence the same lung cancer threat hangs over truck drivers, tractor operators and garage mechanics.
